Young Officers Assigned to Commands

ORGANIZATION NOW READY FOR ARRIVAL OF THE FIRST ARMY SELECTED BY DRAFT

Officers Who Will Take Charge of Men of Eighty-Second Division on Their Arrival at Camp Gordon and Train Them While There Will Be the Same Ones Who Will Lead Them When They Are Sent Overseas.

DIVISION TRAINED HERE WILL BE AMONG FIRST TO SEE REAL FIGHTING

Two Hundred Officers Are Transferred to Fort Sheridan, at Montgomery—Men of the Drafted Army Who Will Begin to Report on Wednesday Morning Are Directed to Disembark at Chamblee.

Officers who will lead the soldiers of the new national army, soon to commence their military training at Camp Gordon, were assigned yesterday to their respective commands.

The list of assignments, as announced officially at division headquarters, is printed exclusively in this issue of The Constitution.

The first contingent of the draft army from this state, Alabama and Florida, will arrive at the cantonment Wednesday. Newly-assigned officers have been ordered to report immediately to the commanding officers of their various units. When the draft men arrive they will find ready to greet them the leaders whom they will follow across the seas, and in service in France and Germany.

It has been virtually decided by the war department that the eighty-second division, at Camp Gordon, will be among the initial units of the new national army to go to the front. Just when it will be prepared to move is, of course, a matter of conjecture. Military authorities at the cantonment believe that about three months' training will have the new national army men, to be trained here, in shape for the overseas trip.

ASSIGNMENTS PERMANENT.

The assignments, as announced Monday, will be permanent. The men assigned will lead their respective commands wherever Uncle Sam chooses to send them. There may be a few minor changes in the make-up of the officers' commands, but the appointments, as a whole, will stand. The assignments cover virtually every unit in the army branch of the national service—infantry, artillery, cavalry, machine gun battalions, trench mortar batteries, ammunition train companies, field hospitals and the medical department generally.

the transfer of 200 newly commissioned officers to Camp Sheridan, at Montgomery, Ala., were announcements Monday that caused a stir at Camp Gordon.

All of the young officers who are to train the new national army men at the cantonment have been "on edge" for more than a week trying to figure out just what General Eben B. Swift, commanding officer at the camp, had in store for them in the way of individual permanent assignments.

Colonel Preston Brown, division chief of staff, spent all of Monday, with a batch of clerks at his elbow, going over the list of 1,200 officers subject to assignment, and at sundown he had completed the assignments and had handed the list to each of the four brigade commanders, with instructions to notify the men affected at roll call this morning.

NEW UNIT ADDED.

A new unit is to be added to the camp. It will cover training of men for the ammunition train service. The officers who will direct the operations of this branch of the service were named Monday, in the general assignment list, and will include reserve men now at the cantonment.

The officers ordered to Fort Sheridan, where they will join the twenty-seventh division of the national guard, were instructed to report at their new headquarters within twenty-four hours. Many of them ogt away during the afternoon and the remainder are

Drafted Men Ordered To Get Hair Cut, Bathe And Wear Clean Clothing

Washington, September 3.—Drafted men of the first 5 per cent contingent who will leave Wednesday for mobilization camps are directed in regulations issued today to take a minimum of civilian clothing and personal belongings. Toilet articles, towels and handkerchiefs are recommended and no objection will be made to two changes of underclothing, but other articles are frowned upon.

Attention is called to the fact that civilian clothing will be discarded when camp is reached and to those not desiring to send such apparel back home it was suggested that clothing not worth keeping be worn. The men may carry only light hand baggage on the train and as suit cases and hand bags will not be allowed for permanent use at camp, articles may be carried in bundles if desired.

Before reporting to local boards, drafted men should have their hair cut very short, be bathed and wear clean clothing.

To insure quick communication with his family each recruit is advised to provide himself with post cards or stamped envelopes.

LANDRUM ONE STEP NEARER SCHOOL JOB

Council's Act in Creating Business Manager's Position Now Final, and Board of Aldermen Favors Plan.

L. M. Landrum, former superintendent of schools, is now certain of a position as business manager of the Atlanta public school system, unless the aldermanic board next Thursday blocks the plan of council.

Councilmen Dolvin and Renfroe, who at council's last meeting gave notice to reconsider the action of council in creating the position, were both absent at Monday's meeting of council, and City Attorney Mayson ruled that as these councilmen were not present to reopen the case, the position was automatically created by council.

The aldermanic board meets Thursday afternoon to pass upon his case, and from present indications seven of the ten aldermen will vote to create the position.

J. H. Mulholland, who had the unanimous recommendation of the entire finance committee of council for a $75-a-month raise, was given a $50-a-month raise, and, henceforth, as superintendent of the municipal garage, will receive $175 a month.

He will also be given full authority in the matter of city-owned automobiles, and will have complete supervision over all autos and purchases of same.

Alderman Steve R. Johnson gave notice that C. A. Bowen, park commissioner from the fourth ward, had moved from the fourth ward into the eighth ward, and that he expected to call for an election of a new commissioner for his ward at council's next meeting.

An effort by the ordinance committee to amend the present law permitting sidewalk elevators to operate only during the early morning hours when traffic is light by allowing them to be operated at all hours, provided the owners gave bond to protect the city from damage suits was ruled out of order by Alderman Johnston, presiding, following an opinion by the city attorney.

An effort to adjourn council because it was Labor Day was lost by a vote of 11 to 5. Alderman McClelland and Councilman Mincey led the fight to have council adjourn out of respect of labor.

WAR ENDS WHEN WE WIN, SAYS SECRETARY BAKER

Newport News, Va., September 3.—Speaking at the Labor day celebration here today, Secretary of War Baker declared that the war with Germany will end "when we win it," paid a high tribute to Samuel Gompers, president of the American Federation of Labor, and to labor and laboring men generally, and urged his hearers to assist in every way possible to win the war.

After reviewing the cause of the war and declaring that the United States had been forced into the struggle through Germany's ruthless policy, he described a picture of the present slaughter of innocent women and children and declared that the question is "whether autocracy or democracy shall rule the world."

In closing, Mr. Baker said that the country has a firm determination to fight until victory is won, so that "in one hand we will hold victory, and in the other the mantle of justice, and will wipe out all bitterness and bring together the gerat brotherhood of man, for which we are contending."

Mr. Baker's address was the feature of the local Labor day celebration, including a parade in the morning, which was reviewed by him, athletic sports and other amusements.

WIFE AND CHILDREN SEE MOTORCYCLIST KILLED ON TRACK

Ed L. Wilcox Fatally Injured Monday Afternoon During Race Being Held at Lakewood Park.

MACHINE HITS FENCE WHEN TIRE BLOWS OUT

Driver Is Hurled Many Feet Through Air, Falling on His Head, and Meets Instant Death.

Before the eyes of his wife and two little children, who sat in the grandstand and watched him start around the race track, Ed L. Wilcox, of Atlanta, was almost instantly killed Monday afternoon about 2:30 o'clock, when the motorcycle he was riding in the Lakewood races crashed into a fence, pitching the rider 60 feet.

Wilcox suffered a severely fractured skull, and died within a few minutes after the accident occurred.

The fatal accident occurred just after the flying start of the first motorcycle race scheduled for the Labor day celebration. The riders were making about 70 miles per hour, and Wilcox was slightly to the rear of the other racers.

Rear Tire Blows Out.

He had made less than an eighth of a mile and had just reached the first turn in the track when the rear tire of his machine blew out.

The machine crashed into the fence on the right side of the race track, bounced back, still carrying the rider, and then plunged into the fence again, hurling Wilcox about 60 feet, where he struck the fence head first, crushing his skull. The machine was completely demolished.

Mrs. Wilcox was in the grandstand watching the races when the fatal accident occurred. She did not know at the time, however, that it was her husband who had been hurt, as there was much dust, and she thought it was another rider. She was overcome when she learned that her husband had been killed.

In the Game Eight Years.

Ed Wilcox has been on the motorcycle track for about eight years. During most of this time he has raced with Harry Glenn, who was one of his closest friends, and was with him when he died. Glenn was so overcome with grief that he did not re-enter any of the races, although he returned to Lakewood after taking Wilcox's body to Atlanta.

Wilcox had hundreds of friends in Atlanta who are deeply grieved to learn of his death. He leaves a wife and two children.

The body has been removed to the undertaking establishment of Harry G. Poole. Funeral arrangements will be announced later.

FLOWER BULBS USED TO FEED DUTCH CATTLE

Amsterdam, September 3.—It now transpires, according to Handelsblad, that the prohibition of the export of flower bulbs was issued with a view to controlling their export for abnormal use. By the removal of harmful ingredients it was found possible to prepare very nourishing milk-producing cattle-foods of various sorts from the bulbs and last year about 200,000 kilograms of tulip bulbs went abroad as cattle food, presumably to Germany. It has now apparently been decided to retain any such surplus for Dutch cattle owing to the lack of fodder as a consequence of the stoppage of American supplies. The hyacinth and narcissus bulbs, it has been learned, have proved valuable for industrial purposes.

According to gardening journals, export consents will be issued wherein normal use of the bulbs is intended and prohibition of export will not apply to consignments to America, Sweden, Norway, Denmark and Switzerland.

HELD AS LYNCHERS OF NEGRO PREACHER

York, S. C., September 3.—That W. T. Sims came to his death at the hands of unknown men was the verdict of a coroner's jury today in the investigations of the death of the negro preacher beaten and shot to death by a crowd believed to have been composed of white men and negroes on the morning of August 13. New warrants were sworn out for nine men in jail charged with complicity in the affair. The ninth arrest in connection with the lynching was made this afternoon when T. R. Penninger, a white blacksmith, 50 years of age, was jailed. He is the father of Fred Penninger, the first white man arrested.

TROOPS USE BAYONETS TO DISPERSE STRIKERS IN ILLINOIS CAPITAL

After Demolishing Four Street Cars, the Rioters Attacked Headquarters of Street Railway Company.

Springfield, Ill., September 3.—Charging with fixed bayonets, F company, Ninth Illinois infantry, tonight dispersed a mob of more than 1,000 strike sympathizers which attacked the headquarters of the street railway company here after wrecking four street cars. The rioters, most of whom had been celebrating Labor day, broke in confusion before the bayonets and gun butts of the soldiers. One man, bayonetted in the arm, was the only person reported seriously hurt. No shots were fired.

Disorder began when the strike sympathizers returned here from Labor day exercises in Bloomington. Attacking street cars in the main business district the mob removed motormen and conductors and turned the cars loose on a hill, demolishing four of them. They then proceeded to the company headquarters, where it was reported several officers of the company had gathered. A guard of six soldiers stationed at the building prevented the mob entering, but was powerless to control a fusillade of bricks which splintered the plate glass windows and allowed the rioters to pillage the electric supplies on display, according to the police. Reinforcements were called and dispersed the crowd.

Rioting has been intermittent for several weeks, since street car operators went out on strike to enforce recognition of the union. One policeman has been killed. Twenty arrests have been made so far by the sheriff's forces and by the soldiers. Liquor obtained in Bloomington is charged by the authorities with being responsible for the outbreak.

At midnight the city was quiet and soldiers were patrolling the streets.

GERMANY STIRRED BY WILSON'S REPLY TO POPE BENEDICT

President Seems to Have Put Leaven of Revolt at Work Among the Subjects of the Kaiser.

REICHSTAG TO DEMAND GOVERNMENT CONTROL

Leaders of Majority Party Say Government Must Be Responsible to Reichstag. German Editors Continue Attacks on Wilson.

London, September 3.—A Reuter dispatch from Amsterdam, says:

"According to reliable information, President Wilson's reply to Pope Benedict's peace proposal made a profound impression in political circles in Germany. Mathias Erzberger, member of the clerical center of the reichstag, who says he is backed by a majority of the members of the reichstag, is expected to be at the next sitting of the main committee of that body to demand legislation for the immediate introduction of a government responsible to the reichstag and the abandonment of its plea of inability to act regarding Alsace-Lorraine, to the extent of proposing that the decision regarding the allegiance of these territories shall be left to their inhabitants. It is expected that he will advocate general disarmament after the war.

Reichstag May Be Dissolved.

"It is considered possible that the reichstag will be dissolved soon after it reassembles and that general elections will be ordered.

"Of noteworthy interest is the statement of Dr. Eduard David, socialist leader of the reichstag in yesterday's Vorwaerts, the German socialist organ. Dr. David maintains that the reichstag has constitutional means of enforcing its will, as no government can continue to rule against its veto. He says that new elections, in which the soldiers at the front would participate, would clearly show how the ship of state must be steered. He says he confidently expects a crushing defeat of the pan-Germans and annexationists."

Peace to Occupy Reichstag.

Amsterdam, September 3.—(By British Admiralty. Per Wireless Press.)—According to reliable authority the next session of the German reichstag will be devoted exclusively to the question of peace.

The majority has decided to challenge the statement of the government regarding its minimum peace program and it is said the government will yield, with a view to peace negotiations before Christmas.

The German government, according to this authority, favors the plenipotentiaries meeting, either at The Hague, at Berne, or at Copenhagen, but preferably The Hague.

WILSON DENOUNCED BY GERMAN EDITORS.

Berlin, September 2.—(Via London.)—The Vossische Zeitung, commenting on President Wilson's reply to the pope's peace proposal, says:

"In its style the note recalls the pompous political blossoms with which Lloyd-George heretofore has remembered the German people. Since the breaking off of relations, Mr. Wilson has appropriated this manner of speech and in a measure has Americanized it.

"This language is probably the outward expression of solidarity with England. He employs the same weapon as his ally, holds the alleged German autocracy responsible for the war and wants to liberate the world from this menace. Perhaps President Wilson is not yet informed of the disclosures made by General Soukhomlinoff (the former Russian war minister, now on trial for treason), and General Januchkevitch regarding the real incidents that led to the outbreak of the war; otherwise he would have altered his tactics. One can no longer charge the 'autocracy system' of Germany with responsibility for the war when the whole world knows that the irresponsible despots of the czar's Russia were used as tools for the purpose of unleashing the dogs of war.

Ridiculous and Comic.

"In the face of such evidence, no further words need be lost over the

GERMAN AIRSHIPS AGAIN DROP BOMBS ON ENGLISH TOWNS

Squadron of Airplanes Attacks Southeast Coast on Monday Night — Second Raid in 24 Hours.

London, September 3.—German airplanes visited the southeast coast of England last (Monday) night, dropping bombs at various places, according to an official statement issued shortly after midnight. No report of casualties or damage has been received up to the present time.

The official statement follows:

"Enemy airplanes crossed the southeast coast at 11 o'clock last night and dropped bombs at various places. No reports of casualties or damage have yet been received.

"A number of our airplanes pursued the enemy."

ONE KILLED, SIX INJURED IN RAID SUNDAY NIGHT.

London, September 3.—One person was killed and six were injured by bombs dropped in the aerial raid over East Kent last night, it is announced officially. The attack was made by a single airplane and was directed against the important channel port of Dover. The official announcement follows:

"Last night's raid was carried out by one enemy airplane which bombed Dover shortly after 11 p. m. Seven bombs were dropped. One man was killed and four women and two children were slightly injured."

SHE KILLED HERSELF AS HER ESCORT DRANK

Concord, N. C., September 3.—Mrs. Maud King, of Chicago, shot near here Thursday night, met death as the result of an accidental pistol wound by her own hand, according to the verdict of the coroner's jury.

Mrs. King and several friends drove into the country Thursday evening and a mile from town left the car with Gaston Means, of Concord, to walk to a nearby spring. Means was taking a drink of water when he heard a shot and turned to see Mrs. King falling. Members of the party testified that her pistol was lying by her side. The bullet entered her head behind the left ear and she died several hours later.

ONE-MILL ROAD TAX IS URGED AT DIXIE HIGHWAY MEETING

Resolutions Unanimously Adopted Calling on Legislature to Enact Constitutional Amendment for a Special Tax and for Direct Road Appropriation.

DIXIE HIGHWAY TOUR OF INSPECTION DONE

At Great Meeting at Milledgeville Commissioners Tell Counties Tourists Will Be Routed Only Over Roads That Are Good.

BY NED M'INTOSH,
Special Staff Correspondent.

Milledgeville, Ga., September 3.—(Special.)—At a big good roads meeting here today incident to the Dixie highway inspection tour of President M. M. Allison and Georgia Commissioners W. T. Anderson and Clark Howell, of the Dixie Highway association, a campaign was inaugurated for an amendment to the constitution of the state to provide a one mill tax levy for the construction and maintenance of roads in Georgia by the unanimous adoption of the following resolutions:

"Be it resolved, That this good roads convention here assembled do hereby petition the state legislature to enact an amendment to the state constitution whereby a tax levy of one mill can be levied and appropriated for good road work in Georgia."

The resolution was introduced by Wylie West, of Atlanta, vice president of the Georgia State Automobile association; J. E. Kidd, of Milledgeville; E. A. Tigner, of Milledgeville; Mayor R. L. Bethea, of Louisville, and B. M. Hunt, of Eatonton.

Attending the meeting which adopted the resolution were representatives of all the counties on the Dixie highway between Atlanta and Savannah and Macon and Savannah. The suggestion of Mr. West that the automobile clubs or other good roads organizations of each county get behind their representatives in the legislature to have them support such an amendment and be sure that any candidate for election to the legislature guarantee his support of such a project before he is elected was enthusiastically received.

The enthusiasm of the meeting indicated that a definite plan will later be worked out to insure the passage of such an amendment. This action was taken after it was shown that California, New York and other states are spending millions of dollars for the construction of permanent all-the-year roads and are finding such expenditures paying investments.

Such a levy would provide more than $1,000,000 a year for the state to expend upon good roads which sum in its expenditure would be augmented by federal and county funds, bringing the total easily to $2,000,000 per year.

At the meeting the representatives and reports from the several counties on the eastern division of the Dixie highway, running from Atlanta via Madison, Eatonton, Milledgeville, Louisville, Sandersville, Savannah and Brunswick to Jacksonville, indicated that progress is being made on the improvement of this division, and that plans are being made for still greater improvements. This indication was clear from practically every county along the route, according to the Dixie highway commissioners, with the exception of Putnam county, where the placing of the route is being blocked by politics.

Commissioners Howell and Anderson made it clear that the Dixie Highway association, in designating a route, will insist that promises of improving highways be made good, or the designation of the route is subject to being withdrawn.

President Allison revealed in his speech here the new plan of the Dixie Highway association for regular annual inspections of the Dixie highway, in its various divisions, and for giving information to tourists based upon the finding of these investigations.

This would mean practically the routing of tourists before they ever arrive in Georgia over those routes whose roads are in best condition and best marked with signboards.

As was pointed out by Commissioner Anderson, this sort of a plan will place the Dixie Highway association upon a practical basis such as has never before been used by any good roads association. "In deciding upon the degree of improvement of a route of the Dixie highway," said Mr. Anderson, "the commissioners propose to take into consideration the conditions with which each county has to contend. This sort of a plan will be very practical and

TOWNS AND FARMS ARE PUT TO TORCH TO DELAY GERMANS

Capture of the Great Baltic Port of Riga Was Easy for Kaiser's Forces, as Russian Troops Showed White Feather.

ROAD TO PETROGRAD OPENED TO GERMANS

But It Is Doubtful if the Invaders Risk Advance With Winter Approaching. Probable That Seat of Russian Government Will Be Moved From Petrograd to Moscow.

New York, September 3.—(By Associated Press. From European Cables of the Day.)—Riga, Russia's big port on the Gulf of Riga, is in the hands of the Germans, and its garrison and the civilian population are in retreat eastward.

Following up rapidly the advantage they gained in driving the Russians across the Dvina river on both sides of Uxkull last Saturday, the Germans threw bridges across this stream and soon were on the heels of the former defenders, some of whom offered resistance, but others of whom showed the white feather, giving the invaders no trouble in marching up the eastern bank of the Dvina toward Riga, 15 miles distant. Seeing the disaffection and the inability to stem the tide of the advance, the Russian commander ordered an evacuation.

RUSSIANS IN PERIL OF BEING CAUGHT.

With the falling back of the Russians from the city proper and the advance of the Germans northward along both sides of the stream, the Russians still defending the western bank around Dahlen seemingly are in danger of being caught between the two fast-moving bodies of the enemy and made prisoner.

[illegible]d them the Russians in their retreat from Riga are laying the country in waste, burning villages and farms. Whether the city itself remains intact has not yet been made known, but doubtless the guns in the fortress and the ammunition stores either were moved or destroyed to prevent them falling into the hands of the Germans.

Aside from the strategic value of controlling the Gulf of Riga and of a base nearer the mouth of the Gulf of Finland, at the head of which Petrograd is situated, for the moment it is impossible to see the importance of the German gain, especially with the near approach of winter, when military operations in this northern region are almost impossible. Where the Russians will draw their new line in the north to connect with that below the point of penetration by the Germans also remains to be seen.

RIGA'S POPULATION OVER HALF MILLION.

Riga, capital of the government of Livonia, had a population of more than 500,000 persons before the war, and aside from Petrograd was the most important Russian commercial and industrial town having access to the Baltic. It is situated at the southern extremity of the Gulf of Riga, a stretch of water 100 miles long and 60 miles wide, Riga lying at the point where the Dvina empties into the gulf. The port is icebound during virtually one-third of the year. It had a very large German population before the opening of hostilities and it is interesting to note that it was founded in 1158 by German merchants as a storehouse, the city passing through the control of various northern nationalities during the centuries until finally, in 1721, it was incorporated with the Russian empire. Its commercial standing is indicated by the fact that it was the third seaport of Russia, only Petrograd and Odessa exceeding it in importance.

RIGA LONG WANTED BY THE GERMANS.

The Germans long have had their eyes upon Riga and at the close of the great campaign of 1915, when Poland was overrun and large sections of Russian soil occupied by the Teutonic forces, an extraordinary effort was made by Field Marshal Hindenburg to break the line of the Dvina between Riga and Dvinsk, 110 miles to the southeast. The Russians at that time, however, were able to hold their grip on the line, being aided by the advent of winter. During last year no serious offensive was undertaken by the Germans on the northern front, their energies in the eastern war theater being directed elsewhere in resisting the Brussiloff offensive and in the Rumanian campaign.

Ever since the Russian revolution, with its disorganizing effect upon the Russian armies, made the military situation more favorable to the Germans, there have been hints that a descent was to be made upon the Russian northern front and several alarms have been sounded in Petrograd that such an eventuality was pending.

The instability of the Russian troops, it is indicated by the official statement, had an important influence upon the decision to order the evacuation of the Riga district so quickly after the winning by the Germans of their first successes. As had been the case in Galicia and Rumapia, some of the Russian units left their trenches without making a fight.

The Russo-Rumanian armies are showing a much firmer resistance on the Rumanian front, repelling all the Teutonic attacks. Several such were delivered yesterday in which the attacking forces sustained large losses and gained nothing.

RIGA SHELLED BY GERMANS.

Petrograd, September 3.—The war office informs the Associated Press that the evacuation of the Riga fortified district referred to in today's official communication includes the city of Riga itself.

A dispatch from The Novoe Vremya's correspondent in Riga sent before the evacuation said the Germans had begun to bombard the city, their heavy artillery causing losses. The correspondent of the same newspaper at Russian headquarters reported a panic in the city.

RUSS GOVERNMENT LIKELY TO CHANGE CAPITAL TO MOSCOW

Washington, September 3.—Abandonment of Riga in the face of the new German drive into Russia and even the evacuation of Petrograd itself, have been forecast as possibilities in confidential advices to the American government during the last two weeks. Such a development is not regarded with so much alarm as might be supposed.

With Riga abandoned and German occupation of Petrograd in prospect, the seat of the Russian provisional government undoubtedly will be moved to Moscow. Much as they may regret seeing the Russian capital occupied by a German army, forceful thinking men of Russia, working to set up a government, may regard it as a blessing in disguise.

There are many advantages in moving the Russian capital to Moscow. It is the center of the conservative group and commands the sentimental—almost religious regard—of the Russian populace as the ancient capital of the old empire, surrounded with traditions of Russia's greatness, the triumphs of Alexander, Catherine and Peter the Great.

Furthermore, some Russians of the new government are said to think that a German occupation of Riga, and even Petrograd, might be a welcome object lesson for the radical element which has been hampering the new government, and that an experience under the military heel of Germany might convince them of the need of supporting the government, as now constituted to save their fatherland for the Russians.

As a military achievement the capture of Riga and Petrograd amounts to almost nothing. With the support of the German fleet in the Baltic a German army can take Riga almost without an effort. Between Riga and Petrograd are many miles of swamp waters, but admittedly the German army could traverse them although not easily.

Von Hindenburg has been credited with having declared he could take Petrograd any time he decided to do so, and having added that there was little military advantage to be gained other than taking possession of the ammunition factories.

At any rate a German army placed in Riga and Petrograd now will soon have its rear cut off by ice, for all winter communications will be cut off. Those who are not disposed to regard the extension of the German line further into Russia as being of a military gain to Germany, recalling the old adage that King Winter was too much for Napoleon, pointed out that Germany only takes on her already burdened establishment the task of caring for an army frozen in far from base.

The chief object would seem to be the effect on the political situation in Russia.

ROAD TO PETROGRAD OPEN TO GERMANS.

London, September 3.—The evacuation of Riga by the Russians recalls the statement of General Korniloff, commander-in-chief of the Russian armies, at the Moscow conference: "If our army does not help us to hold the shore of the Gulf of Riga the road to Petrograd will be opened wide."

While few believe that the Germans will undertake to penetrate to the Russian capital over an inhospitable road 350 miles in length, through bleak territory almost impassable for armies, nevertheless the news shows that the Russian army is far from the recovery which has been so often predicted.

The abandonment of the city of Riga became necessary when, through the instability of Russian regiments, the Germans were able to cross the Dvina river at Kull, thus threatening the road to Petrograd from the southwest, while another army advanced across the Tirul marshes and along the shore of the Gulf of Riga toward the town.

The abandonment of the gulf gives to the Germans another sea base from which to operate in the Baltic and one much nearer the gulf of Finland. Its use, however, is limited by ice conditions that will prevail later, while it is practically certain that all Russian naval vessels will make their escape to the north.

RUSSIAN TROOPS REFUSE TO RESIST ADVANCING ENEMY

Petrograd, September 3.—The Russians have abandoned Riga, the war office announces.

The statement says an order has been given for the abandonment of the Riga region on account of the threatening situation.

Some Russian detachments voluntarily left their positions, the war office reports, and are retiring towards the north.

The statement says:

"On the left bank of the River Dvina, to the west of Riga, our troops towards the morning of Sunday retired to the line of Bilderlingshof, Medem and Dahlen.

"In the direction of Uxkull, on the north bank of the Dvina, in the course of Saturday and Sunday, the Germans conducted stubborn attacks, chiefly on the front in Shtal-Meimuger-Skrihto-Lausin and the confluence of the River Oger. Towards Sunday evening they succeeded in penetrating our positions on the River Jaegel, in the region of Melmuger and Skrihto.

"Some of the detachments voluntarily left their positions and are retiring to the north. Efforts to restore the position by counter attacks gave no definite result. In view of the threatening situation created in the Riga region the order has been given for the abandonment of this region.

"On the remainder of the front there were fusillades, which were more intense in the direction of Vilna.

"Rumanian Front: In the direction of Fokshani the enemy attacked Rumanian positions near Geurile and Varnitza several times yesterday, but was repulsed with large losses. There were fusillades on the remainder of the front.

"Caucasian Front: There is no change in the situation.

"Aviation: On the lower course of the River Zbrucz, Lieutenant Lakman, a French aviator, burned an enemy observation kite balloon."

GERMANS ANNOUNCE CAPTURE OF RIGA.

Berlin, September 3.—(Via London.)—Today's official report from the eastern front says that the German troops are making progress in accordance with the plan mapped out.

The announcement follows:

"Army Group of Prince Leopold: After careful preparation German divisions on Sunday morning crossed the Dvina on both sides of Uxkull. The infantry crossing was preceded by a heavy bombardment by artillery and mine throwers. A footing was gained on the northern bank of the river after a short fight. Where the Russians offered resistance they were driven back by vigorous attacks. The movements of our troops are in progress and are proceeding according to our plans.

"The enemy gave up his positions west of the Dvina, owing to our advance. Our divisions are moving forward there also, while fighting with the Russian rear guard. Dense columns of every kind are making their way hastily in a northeasterly direction along the roads leading out of Riga. Burning villages and farms mark the routes taken by the retreating west wing of the Twelfth Russian army.

"Front of Archduke Joseph: In the river valleys on the northeastern slope of the wooded Carpathians the fighting activity revived.

"Front of Field Marshal von Mackensen: In the mountains between the Suchitza and Putna valleys our regiments by counter attacks repulsed strong Russo-Rumanian attacks. Including 200 prisoners which fell into our hands here the number of prisoners taken in this field of battle since August 28 totals 20 officers and 1,650 men, together with six guns with limbers, 60 machine guns and numerous mine-throwers and military wagons.

"The Rumanians also vainly attacked near Marasechti.

Macedonian Front: French attacks this morning broke down with heavy losses near Bratindol, northwest of Monastir. The Serbians again suffered a sanguinary reverse on the Dobropolje."

The supplementary statement issued this evening from general headquarters announce the capture of Riga by the Germans.

Calomel Today! Sick Tomorrow! I Guarantee Dodson's Liver Tone

Don't take nasty, dangerous calomel when bilious, constipated, headachy. Listen to me!

Calomel makes you sick; you lose a day's work. Calomel is quicksilver and it salivates; calomel injures your liver.

If you are bilious, feel lazy, sluggish and all knocked out, if your bowels are constipated and your head aches or stomach is sour, just take a spoonful of harmless Dodson's Liver Tone instead of using sickening, salivating calomel. Dodson's Liver Tone is real liver medicine. You'll know it next morning because you will wake up feeling fine, your liver will be working, your headache and dizziness gone, your stomach will be sweet and bowels regular. You will feel like working. You'll be cheerful; full of vigor and ambition.

Your druggist or dealer sells you a 50 cent bottle of Dodson's Liver Tone under my personal guarantee that it will clean your sluggish liver better than nasty calomel; it won't make you sick and you can eat anything you want without being salivated. Your druggist guarantees that each spoonful will start your liver, clean your bowels and straighten you up by morning or you get your money back. Children gladly take Dodson's Liver Tone because it is pleasant tasting and doesn't gripe or cramp or make them sick.

I am selling millions of bottles of Dodson's Liver Tone to people who have found that this pleasant, vegetable liver medicine takes the place of dangerous calomel. Buy one bottle on my sound, reliable guarantee. Ask your druggist about me.

129,000 MEN LOST BY THE AUSTRIANS ON ITALIAN FRONT

Germany Is Said to Be Sending Troops to Aid of Austrians, Especially in Region of the Carso.

New York, September 3.—(By the Associated Press. From European Cables of the Day.)—In the Austro-Italian theater the Italians have made further progress on the Bainsizza plateau and in the Brestovizza valley and at various points along the line have repulsed fresh counter attacks launched by the Austrians. Throughout this entire theater violent artillery duels are in progress from Tolmino to the sea.

Advices to the Italian embassy in Washington are to the effect that along the front of the present offensive the Austrians have lost more than 128,000 men. Reports from Udine, Italy, give the Austrian losses as one-third of the first line army.

The batteries of Field Marshal Haig are still pouring an incessant fire against the German trenches in Flanders, but as yet the anticipated new dash by his men to capture them has not started. Doubtless the knocking down of the defenses has not reached the limits which the British commander always requires before he throws his infantrymen into the fray.

On the remainder of the front in the west held by the British there have been the usual trench raiding operations, in one of which south of Monchy-le-Preux German dug-outs and machine guns were destroyed and some prisoners taken.

Artillery duels, which are somewhat violent in the Verdun region, are taking place along the front where the French are facing the Germans. No infantry actions of importance have occurred.

German air raiders Monday night again paid a visit to England, the second time in as many days, dropping bombs.

AUSTRIANS SUFFER ENORMOUS LOSSES.

Washington, September 3.—Austrian losses in the fighting on the road to Triest are 125,000 men and 3,500 officers, according to dispatches received today at the Italian embassy

Germany is said to be sending large forces to the aid of the Austrians, especially in the region of the Carso, a large section reported to be wholly defended by German troops.

General Borovic is reported to have been removed and General Koevess named as his successor. According to The Vienna Fremdenblatt, General Borovic appealed to Von Hindenburg for aid and asked for a Bavarian division now on the Rumanian front, but was refused.

North of San Gabriele and in the valley of Brestoviso to the south, official dispatches say, the Austrians, strongly fortified, are fighting desperately. Monitors still are dominating the Gulf of Trieste 8 kilometers from Pola, where the Austrian fleet is bottled up and where, it is reported, a large army is kept inactive by the Austrians.

ITALIANS BATTLE WITH AUSTRIANS ALL ALONG LINE

Udine, Italy, September 3.—Notwithstanding bad weather, fighting still continues all along the Italian-Austrian line, and consists for the most part in isolated hand-to-hand encounters between small detachments of Italians and Austrian soldiers, the latter imprisoned by Italian artillery fire in galleries, the mouths of which have been closed by shellfire. Austrian defenders remain in these galleries several days without food or munitions.

The attacking forces are straightening out the new line by cutting out salients still held by small groups of Austrians, who are unable either to advance or retreat, and are obliged to surrender. Counter offensives by the Austrians, in which they are supported by reinforcements, are being continually repulsed and outlying portions of lost positions remain in Italian hands.

The prisoners taken during the last four or five days are mostly fresh troops in excellent condition and well equipped, showing the immense effort the enemy is making to save the situation. Notwithstanding that the Italians had not lost a yard of the gained ground, serious attacks on a comparatively large scale north of Mount San Gabriele and east of Gorizia have been repulsed with heavy losses to the enemy, and show that the Austrians appreciate the importance of this position, which gives access to the whole plain of Gorizia.

The enemy still maintains fire on Monte Santo, although he has no hopes of conquering it. Along with these individual combats continues the artillery duel with the Borovich army, possessing more than 4,000 cannon, of all caliber.

The Austrians have transformed the favorite summer playground in the Panovizza woods southeast of Gorizia into an immense artillery park, from which they pour a continuous rain of fire to the north over the little plain of Gargano at the entrance to the Chiaponvo valley to the west toward Sabottino Podigona, and to the south over the near side of the rugged Carso slopes.

PROGRESS MADE BY ITALIANS.

Rome, September 3.—Italian troops have fought their way forward in the Brestovizza valley in the district south of Gorizia and repulsed a violent Austrian counter attack on their new positions, the war office announced today.

FRENCH REPULSE GERMAN ATTACKS ON AISNE FRONT

Paris, September 3.—German attacks on the Aisne front last night were beaten off by the French, it is announced officially. Heavy artillery fighting occurred between Beaumont and Samogneux on the Verdun front.

The official communication issued by the war office tonight reads:

"There was an intermittent cannonade at various points on the front, more spirited on the left bank of the Meuse. In Champagne we carried out a surprise attack west of the road between St. Hilarre and St. Couplet and brought back prisoners.

"Belgian Communication: 'During September 1-2-3 the usual artillery actions took place. They were especially intense before Ramscapelle and Dixmude. There was lively bomb fighting on September 1 north of Dixmude. Our aviators, flying at a low altitude, turned their machine guns on the enemy trenches north of Dixmude and also on an automobile convoy near Beerst.'

"Eastern Theater: September 2—On the evening of September 1 our troops, after violent artillery preparation, penetrated the enemy trenches west of the Cerna and brought back prisoners. There was artillery fighting on the rest of the front, violent between Lake Doiran and the Vardar, and in the region of Monastir."

BRITISH CHECK GERMAN RUSHES.

London, September 3.—"Early last night," says today's official statement on the Franco-Belgian front operations, "the enemy made his third attempt to capture our advanced posts southwest of Havrincourt. His attack, which was preceded by a heavy bombardment, was again repulsed.

"We carried out a successful raid yesterday evening southeast of Monchy-le-Preux. Our troops took the enemy completely by surprise and after destroying his dugouts and machine guns, returned with 18 prisoners."

The official report from British headquarters in France tonight reads:

"A hostile raiding party which attempted to approach our lines early this morning southwest of La Bassee was driven back by our fire before reaching our trenches. The enemy's artillery has shown considerable activity during the day north of Ypres.

"Last night our airplanes dropped over three tons of bombs on the enemy airdromes with good results. In the air fighting one German machine was bronght down and one was driven down out of control. One of ours is missing."

GERMANS REPORT ARTILLERY ACTION.

Berlin, September 3.—(Via London.) Despite stormy weather, the intense artillery duel has been continued on the Flanders front, says today's army headquarters statement regarding the western war theater operations. Inroads were made, it is stated, on the ground recently gained by the French in the Hurtebise region on the Aisne front. The text of the statement reads:

"Western Front: During a storm and showery weather the artillery duel in sections of the Flanders front was intense. With the other armies and also on the Meuse the artillery action was generally unimportant.

"On the Cambral-Arras road a strong attack by the British failed. Near Hurtebise farm the territory gained by the French was somewhat reduced."

WHISKY AND TOBACCO AMERICAN FAVORITES

All Records for Consumption Broken During Past Fiscal Year.

Washington, September 3.—All previous American records for consumption of whisky, cigars, cigarettes and tobacco apparently went by the boards during the past fiscal year. The preliminary report of Commissioner of Internal Revenue Osborn, covering the twelve months ending June 30, made public today, shows record tax collections on these and other articles.

Here are the grand totals of production upon which taxes were paid:

Distilled spirits from every source—rye, corn, wheat, apples, peaches, pears, pineapples, oranges, apricots, berries, prunes, figs and cherries—164,665,246 however, can be moved but slowly, belons over the previous year, yielding a tax return of $186,563,055.

Cigars of all descriptions and weight, 9,216,901,113 — approximately 90 per capita—as compared with 8,337,720,530 the previous year.

Cigarettes, 30,529,193,538, as compared with 21,087,757,078, an increase of more than 40 per cent.

Tobacco, chewing and smoking, 445,-763,206 pounds, an increase of 28,500,000 pounds.

Even snuff went to apparent new high levels of production with 35,377,-751 pounds, an increase of 2,200,000 pounds in the year.

The return to the government in taxes on cigars, cigarettes, tobacco and snuff was $103,201,592, an increase of approximately $15,000,000, or 18 per cent over the previous year. The record figures indicate great nation-wide prosperity, officials state, and in the case of cigarettes, tremendous growth of the habit among women.

The production of beer, while exceeding that of the previous year, fell considerably below the high record of 66,-080,000 barrels in 1914. Taxes were paid last year on 60,729,509 barrels at $1.50 per barrel and other taxes on breweries and retailers brought the total up to $91,897,293, against $88,771,-104.

Other tax receipts included those on oleomargarine, $1,995,720; special taxes on bankers, corporations, brokers, theaters, bowling alleys, commission merchants, etc., $15,708,733; documentary stamps and perfumes, $8,926,-310; estates, $6,076,575; excess profits, $37,176; amunitions, $27,663,940, and miscellaneous, $2,093,853, bringing the total ordinary receipts up to $449,-712,412. Income taxes of $359,681,228 brought the grand total, including the Alaskan railways tax of $33,256, up to $809,393,640, as compared with $512,723,-288 the year before.

The cost of collecting the revenues was approximately $9.53 per $1,000, or .95 per cent, the lowest on record.

BEAUTIFUL SCENERY PROVES BIG FEATURE ON "BARBARY SHEEP"

With some of the prettiest scenery ever offered in a moving picture in Atlanta and with a star of beauty and talent in the leading role, "Barbary Sheep" scored a big hit yesterday at all performances at the Rialto theater, where it opened a week's engagement.

This splendid Artcraft production tells the story of the attraction of the sons of Araby for the daughters of the people of European countries. The plot is laid in Algeria, and this gives opportunity for many magnificent scenes of the desert.

The leading role is played by Elsie Ferguson, well known for her splendid work on the stage in "Such a Little Queen," "Shirley Kaye" and a host of other plays in which she appealed to her audiences both by her beauty and the real skill of her acting.

In this picture, her first appearance before the screen, she has carried all her art and all her fascination and the appeal to her clientele is as great as it ever was before the footlights.

She takes the part of an English-woman whose husband loves the chase next only to his wife. He goes to Algeria to hunt Barbary Sheep, and while he is engaged in this kind of hunt his wife sees and feels the personality of the men or Araby.

With her husband gone the larger part of each night and the wife more or less neglected, it is but natural that she turns for a brief space of time to the Arab, Benchaalal. Soon she feels the danger of this attraction and struggles, all in vain, to free herself from it.

Her husband becomes suspicious and just as he witnesses a meeting of the two, Arab and Englishwoman, and is about to kill the man who is plotting to wreck his home, the task is taken from his hands, by a man whose sweetheart had long ago been killed by the Arab. And then a greater happiness comes to both, man and wife, in the realization of the danger she has run and of the love that binds them together.

NO DRASTIC LEVY ON WAR PROFITS

Proposals of La Follette Defeated in the Senate. La Follette and Others Allege Corporations Are Escaping Too Lightly.

Washington, September 3.—The senate spent today's holiday in the sharpest clashes of its fight over war profits taxation and again decisively defeated proposals of the high tax advocates.

Senator La Follette's maximum amendment for war profits taxes, proposing a flat increase of 70 per cent over existing rates, was rejected by a vote of 55 to 20. Another by the Wisconsin senator for a 65 per cent increase was defeated 53 to 17.

The final vote on the war profits section is to be taken late Wednesday, but the bill's provision as now written for an increase of about one-third, or $1,060,000,000, is expected to stand. Tomorrow another amendment by Senator La Follette for a 60 per cent gross levy will come up, together with a complete substitute proposal by Senator Hollis, for the finance committee's compromise provision.

Only Three Recruits Gained.

Only three recruits were gained in today's voting by the high tax advocates in addition to the seventeen who voted Saturday for Senator Johnson's maximum proposal of an 80 per cent tax. Senators King, McKellar and Trammell voted for both of the La Follette proposals. On the 65 per cent increase the high tax strength was reduced through the early departure of Senators Ashurst, Brady and Gore.

A few additions are expected on other pending amendments for various flat taxes down to 48 per cent, but Senator Borah said today, after the vote on Senator La Follette's amendment, that the bill probably would go to the president bearing its present total tax levy of $2,500,000,000.

Many phases of the war situation were discussed during the holiday debate of seven hours, three of which were occupied by Senator La Follette in another vigorous speech for higher rates on what he termed "blood profits." His remarks caused Senator Simmons, chairman of the finance committee, to suggest that the Wisconsin senator was attempting to "hoodwink" the senate, and provoked two hot clashes, in which both senators were declared out of order by the presiding officer.

Senator La Follette contended that the committee's new plan would not increase the tax burden of great corporations, but would exempt their large surpluses. This was vehemently denied by Senator Simmons.

La Follette Renews Attack.

Renewing his attack on the war profits section, Senator La Follette declared the method devised by the committee for ascertaining the capital of corporations is unworkable. The placing of authority on the secretary of the treasury to ascertain the capital of corporations in contested cases, he insisted, would be tantamount to accepting the statements of the corporations unchallenged, because it would be a physical impossibility to make investigations in the time this bill would be effective.

Under the substitute proposition it would be possible, he declared, for corporations, by inflation of values for trade-marks, good will and other means, to reduce the amount of their profits so as to lower the taxes they would be called upon to pay.

The senator aroused Chairman Simmons by declaring it was proposed to take "the lives of our boys, the heads of our families and all the people have got," but leave "these money-making corporations their profits, taking only 72 per cent and leaving them 28 per cent of their blood profits to add to the peace profits and their capital unimpaired."

Senator Simmons denied that the bill would exempt corporations' surplus from taxation and intimated that Senator La Follette was "attempting to hoodwink the senate."

Senator La Follette demanded that Mr. Simmons be declared out of order.

"I will not yield to any man whom impugns my motives," he thundered.

Senator Simmons later disputed Senator La Follette's statement that the bill, as recently amended, would not take more taxes from the United States Steel corporation than it would have as originally reported. If the company's profits were the same this year as last, he said, Senator La Follette's argument would be sound, but its profits were estimated to be much larger this year and the committee, by proposing a new maximum levy on war profits, expected to obtain much more revenue from it.

Steel Corporation Taxes.

Senator Johnson interrupted to ask Chairman Simmons if the steel corporation would be compelled to pay only a tax on war profits of about $59,000,000 instead of $76,000,000 as he had declared previously. The North Carolina senator admitted that was substantially correct.

Senator La Follette charged that the amended bill would reduce the taxes of corporations. Chairman Simmons asserted the Bethlehem Steel company would pay $25,046,090 under the original bill, Senator LaFollette said, while the committee's financial expert estimated it at $21,835,994, but the amended bill would only levy $19,729,060.

"I maintain the form of amendment is a temptation to all corporations to swell their capitalization," the Wisconsin senator continued. "It invites over-capitalization."

Now is the time for the United States to show how this war is to be financed, Senator La Follette declared, if the country is to escape financial ruin; adding that from now on the demand for money with which to conduct this war will increase.

"We are adopting a plan of financing the war that is fraught with the greatest danger to our finances and is an injustice to the people," he continued. "This tax bill is 24 per cent of the total amount that has to be raised either by bond issue or taxes if you leave out the amount loaned to our allies. If you do take that into account, it amounts to only 14 per cent. We don't know if we are going to collect from our allies or not.

"We are starting out this war on a lower percentage of taxation than the civil war, or the percentage during the Mexican war. I say that under the pressure of keeping down the taxes on corporations and the incomes of the rich we are being pressed back across the danger line. No government on earth can stand the strain this war makes on finances."

Estimating twenty million families in the country, Senator La Follette said every billion dollars of war expense would mean a burden of fifty dollars for each family head.

Senator Simmons declared that under the bill as it now stands at least half the corporations of the country will be taxed more than before, the tax alone of the Steel corporation amounting to $183,734,000 this year, while the tax to be paid by the DuPont Powder company will be ten million more, and that of the General Motors, $1,500,000. The net increase to be paid by twenty leading corporations of the country will amount to $21,136,000, he said.

Senator Frelinghuysen said the La Follette proposal was fraught with great danger to business interests.

"To impose such unfair taxes and impair industry," he said, "would practically make certain the victory of Germany."

Borah Wants 60 Per Cent Levy.

Senator Borah addressed the senate at length in favor of a tax of at least 60 per cent.

Citing the increasing war expense estimates of Secretary McAdoo, Senator Borah said he believed they ultimately would reach between $22,000,000,000 and $23,000,000,000 and possibly $25,000,000,000 for the first year, including loans to the allies.

"This bill probably will finally provide $2,500,000,000 in taxes," he continued. "There is no record in history of such a shrinking from duty by a legislative body. Congress has met this war with courage and amplitude of means, but when we meet taxation we shrink from performance of our manifest duty.

"Is $2,500,000,000 in taxes the standard of patriotism that men of wealth are willing to contribute to the war? I do not believe it."

Senator Borah read statements of President Wilson, Bonar Law and Lloyd-George regarding possible inflation from large bond issues and necessity for a reasonable amount of taxes. He cited England's 80 per cent levy on war taxation after two years of war, and asked:

"Are we not better able to meet an 80 per cent tax at the beginning of war than England after two years of it? On what theory can it be said that we would break down business or make the war unpopular if business makes 20 per cent more out of war than in peace?

"After business efficiency is protected, I would take every dollar over $10,000 of the income of every man in the United States."

The Idaho senator presented statistics regarding the amount of profits, based upon last year's earnings, that big business concerns would retain even if a 60 per cent war profits rate was adopted. He said the DuPont powder interests would have $35,000,000 left over.

Declaring that the Armour & Co.'s excess over a 60 per cent levy would be $11,600,000, he said:

"That is quite sufficient for a man to wish the war to continue indefinitely."

The Bethlehem Steel company's excess over 60 per cent was estimated at $20,600,000 and the United States Steel corporation's at $157,340,000, based on 1916 earnings, with the latter increased to $188,730,000 on this year's earnings.

"Could there be any better investment than an investment in war?" Senator Borah asked.

$490,000,000 Profits for Steel Trust.

Senator Johnson called attention to the fact that Chairman Simmons made the statement that the profits of the steel corporation this year would be $490,000,000, that the tax proposed to be levied on that organization would amount to only $183,000,000.

Senator Newlands interrupted to say that according to Chairman Kitchin, of the house ways and means committee, $23,000,000,000 are to be appropriated this year, of which $7,000,000,000 are to go to the allies and $7,000,000,000 are to be expended in the conduct of the war. He asked what is to be done with the remaining $9,000,000,000 appropriated.

Regarding the loans that have been made to the allies, Senator Borah declared that no living soul knows to whom that money was loaned, how it is being used or anything else about it.

A detailed statement showing the amount of appropriations already made this year by congress was made by Senator Smoot, replying to Senator Borah. A total appropriation of $18,005,538,107 is to be made, he said, of which seven billions will go to the allies, thus leaving $12,005,538,107.

Senator Smoot said he believed the pending bill would raise a great deal more than $2,500,000,000, considering increased earnings this year.

GERMANY STIRRED BY WILSON'S REPLY

question whether Germany was responsible for the war. This accusation is especially ridiculous and comic out of the mouth of Mr. Wilson, this democratic ally of democratic England, which used oligarchical Russia as an acommodating accessory. If Mr. Wilson's democratic conscience had always been as susceptible as he now pretends, he would have declined to play an important role in Anglo-Russian plans. In a word, he would not now be in this war, which is the product of arbitrary world despotism, and stand where he now actually does. He would not then employ against Germany that poisonous weapon which is so abhorrent to the principles of democracy, namely, a conscious liar.

"Fortunately we are no longer defenseless against this style of fighting. Our answer has been given and our witnesses are not under suspicion. President Wilson is no longer addressing neutral spectators as he formerly did. He is now talking at Germany which, as he full well knows, is not called upon to undergo an internal crisis and which is demanding for itself a larger measure of the right of self-government, in a different sense, however, than conceived by Mr. Wilson.

"Mr. Wilson has attempted to draw to his side the German people, which is now striking for recognition of its majority. He differentiates between the government and people of Germany. The former, he opposes; the latter not. His refusal of the pope's offer, therefore, is specious. He declines to negotiate with 'autocratic' Germany, but not with the German people. He is only willing to accept assurances from the German government, if they are substantiated as representing the expressed will of the German people.

Wilson's Demand Superfluous.

"If Mr. Wilson has in mind the declarations heretofore made by the German government, his demand is superfluous. These declarations have been substantiated by the German people; they have emanated from the German people and the government has approved them. The first condition for that system of government which Mr. Wilson has in mind is therefore given, namely, the nation's will to determine the direction of its politics. This is demonstrated in the reichstag's peace resolution. The movement is a genuine movement for liberty and this path which Germany has taken without advice from her foes does not lead to a sham democracy. The movement respects the rights of a nation and opposes every oppression of a people. For this very reason and in contrast to England and the United States, this movement does not content itself with merely giving to the nations the right to decide their own destiny for the purpose of disintegrating and delivering them up to the despotism of a few over-powerful factors.

"This movement purposes also by virtue of this self-determination to teach nations to further neighborly interests, thus producing an honest league of the weaker nations, which collectively will be strong and free and capable of defending themselves. This is the political aim which Germany has in view for herself and the European continent, and the acme of which would be secured through parliamentarization.

"If President Wilson desires to negotiate with Germany on this basis he may soon have the desired opportunity."

WILSON'S NOTE PARTISAN, SAY VIENNA EDITORS.

Amsterdam, September 3.—The Vienna Nieue Frei Presse, commenting on President Wilson's note, says:

"Even an unprejudiced perusal must lead to the conclusion that President Wilson's reply is the most partisan presentation imaginable, that lacks all justice; is filled with malignity and prejudice against Germany and shows that President Wilson has no inkling of Germany's political institutions on the character of the German people.

"President Wilson appears to know nothing either of the isolation policy or that France is at least as militarist as Germany. He has not read that in the Sukhomlinoff trial the clearest proof that has been given that the war was unchained by the military caste of Russia, even against the czar's will. He does not know and does not want to know that by disregard of the London and Paris declarations, Great Britain is responsible for the entire misfortune at sea."

The paper further terms the note "nonsensical," adding, "for even if it were assumed that Germany had striven after world domination no one will understand why the slaughter must continue, despite the frustration of the alleged plea of domination."

It sees in the concluding words of the note the only ray of hope and declares even the American people could not offer a better guarantee of treaties than the agreement between the German parliament and government exhibited by the reichstag resolution and the chancellor's acceptance thereof."

Offensive to German People.

The Vienna Fremdenblat declares:

"The contents of President Wilson's reply are as unparalleled as the tone of the note. In a most humiliating and offensive manner terms are dictated to the German people, the fulfillment of which would constitute the most humiliating intervention in the most primitive rights of the German nation. If Germany lay prostrate, her army destroyed and fleet hors de combat, no more degrading terms could be proposed by the president of the United States.

"The fact has been made clear that by rights of self-determination the entente understanding nothing but their own determination of the fate of hostile peoples, President Wilson simply declares the resolve to force his will on the German people. He sets up an European Monroe doctrine and claims for himself the right to remodel state forms on our continent, according to his pleasure. Europe shall become a dependency of America.

"It having been clear that the resistance of the central powers can no more be broken by the force of arms than by a starvation war, the attempt is made by enemies to implant the metastasis germ in the peoples of the central powers. The reichstag peace resolution does not satisfy Mr. Wilson. He requires a peace resolution; he would like to transform Germany into the condition in which Russia now is, thanks to its joining the western powers.

"The German people, however, will give a fitting answer to this unsought benefactor, and every one who has retained clear judgment will recognize that the freedom Mr. Wilson preaches is nothing but subjection to America's dictation."

AWAKE TO THE WAR, URGES ELIHU ROOT

German Victory Means Democracy's Death, He Says. Lawyers Urged to Raise "Cry of Alarm" to Stir the Country.

Saratoga Springs, N. Y., September 3.—Lawyers of America were urged to sound a "cry of alarm" throughout the nation for a successful prosecution of the war, in an address delivered today by Elihu Root before the conference of Bar association delegates, an organization allied with the American Bar association. He urged that each member of the bar "exert every influence and every power he possibly possesses over his clients, friends and associates in every community," in that direction.

"It has become perfectly evident," he said, "that this is a conflict between two opposite and inevitably opposed systems of government, of policy, of politics, of human society. It has become perfectly evident that the war was brought on with a purpose to establish a military autocracy. It has become perfectly evident that more than a generation of careful preparation had been made for this very thing, and that the democracies of the world, rejoicing in peace and prosperity, in political freedom and in individual liberty, were in great measure and in differing degree unprepared to meet this attack upon them.

"Slowly they have gathered to the support of the principle of their lives, the principle upon which they live, against the adverse attack on this principle, the domination of which means the death of democracy and the everlasting destruction of the system of individual liberty of which we are the high priests of the bar.

America Fights for Liberty.

"So long as there exists a great and powerful military autocracy which has the purpose to secure domination by military force, just so long republics, democracies and countries which preserve individual freedom and individual rights—countries which subordinate government to freedom—must be at the mercy of autocracy. As well go to sleep with a burglar sitting in your front hall as to talk about peace and security of a democracy with Germany still competent to pursue its career of domination.

"We are in the fight, and the stake for which we fight is liberty, and it is our bar which stands at the door through which oppression would enter. It is not so easy for the farmer to see there will be a difference in his crops, or in the sale of them; for the manufacturer to see that any one will stop wearing clothes or shoes, or using machinery; but it is easy for us to see that with the domination of that military system that subordinates the law, that makes the bar but a cog to an administrative system of government and leaves to the bench no independence—it is easy for the lawyer to see that everythnig he has contended for of individual liberty and the supremacy of the law over executive power—will be attacked and destroyed if we do not succeed in this war."

Mr. Root spoke after he had been elected chairman of the conference. He was interrupted by applause many times during the address.

Lawyers to Aid Fighting Men.

The delegates indorsed a plan which pledges the lawyers to give local aid to those entering the federal or state service and the local exemption boards; to conserve the practice of lawyers entering such service; to co-operate in relief work, including gratuitous assistance in probating the estates of those who have died while in the service, and assisting the federal and state authorities in all activities in connection with the war, including providing public speakers for the promotion of patriotism and patriotic endeavor.

Henry R. Rathbone, of Chicago, who proposed the resolution, was authorized to offer it before the American Bar association, which meets here tomorrow.

Efforts made in many cities to give free legal aid to the worthy poor were indorsed in a resolution urging state and local bar associations to foster the formation in their respective jurisdictions of legal aid societies.

Another resolution adopted recommends to state and local bar associations that "a systematic endeavor be made to elevate the standards of the profession, and that a more careful investigation be made into the moral character of applicants for admission to the bar."

Investigation of the question of neutralizing criminals will be abandoned by the American Institute of Criminal Law and Crimonology, which decided that there is no further necessity for such research "until scientific statistical and social work has been completed by the various agencies engaged therein to a sufficient extent to provide a basis upon which some definite action may be erected."

Harrison Drug Act.

The institute adopted a resolution requesting congress to amend the Harrison drug act so as to protect more fully the user of drugs as well as the dispenser.

Thomas M. Osborne spoke tonight before the institute on "Common Sense in Prison Management."

The following officers were elected by the bureau of comparative law: Director, Simeon E. Baldwin, New Haven, Conn.; secretary, Robert P. Shick, Philadelphia; treasurer, Eugene Massie, Richmond, Va.

Speaking before the section of legal education tonight, Walter W. Cook, of Connecticut, urged the adoption by the American Bar association of a plaint for the creation by joint action by the American Bar association and the Association of American Law school a counsel fully equiped to examine from time to time all the law schools in the United States and publicly to classify them.

A proposed uniform law relating to the use of the flag was the only one finally adopted by the national conference of commissioners on state laws. Other proposals referred back to committees. The suggested law, which will be recommended for an enactment by state legislatures, is drastic in its prohibition of the use of the flag for advertising purposes.

Boras Bakhmeteff, the Russian ambassador, who was the guest of honor at a dinner given by the judicial section tonight, expressed confidence that the Rusian armies will continue to fight.

"They have not been crushed," he said, "and are not going to be crushed. The program is for a strong democratic government and a strong army."

Elihu Root expressed confidence in the men behind the new Russian government. Other speakers were Gaston de Leval, of Belgium, and John W. Javis, of Washington, solicitor general.

BIG CROWDS SEE LABOR DAY RACES

Lakewood Thronged All Day and Amusement Devices Reap Harvest—Mule Races Please Audience.

Immense throngs of people witnessed the big Labor day celebration of the Atlanta Federation of Trades held at Lakewood Monday.

The motorcycle races in the afternoon were the principal feature of the day. A damper was thrown upon the enthusiasm of the crowds, however, when Ed L. Wilcox was killed as his motorcycle crashed into the fence around the race track on the first lap of the beginning race.

Boating and bathing featured the morning and all of the concessions were kept busy throughout the day.

O. R. Lancaster, of Atlanta, riding an Indian motorcycle, came out ahead in the first motorcycle race, making the 5 miles in 4 minutes 22 2-5 seconds. Gene Walker, of Birmingham, came in second, and Tex Richards, of Atlanta, third. The average rate of speed for the first race was 69.5 miles per hour.

Gene Walker won the second race, his Harley-Davidson making the 8-mile run in 7 minutes 11 2-5 seconds. Earl Morrison, of Birmingham, came second, and Tex Richards third.

The third motorcycle race was won by Tex Richards, of motordrome fame, who made the 10 miles in 9 minutes 21 seconds. Gene Walker, although he came out on the first mile on account of a broken saddle on his machine, reentered on the next lap and came out following Richards.

"Nemo" Lancaster entered the third race with grim determination to win, riding an 8-valve Indian, which he was permitted to enter after some protest from the other racers. For the first three miles Lancaster left the other racers so far behind that he shut off his machine and took it easy, joking with the judges as he passed the stand. But his flying start was too much and he came out on the fourth mile with a burnt-out tire.

Next to the motorcycle event, the mule race pleased the crowds more than any other feature of the afternoon.

"Eight Hours," a lanky, raw-boned affair ridden by Billy Bigelow, a lad of 10, came out with flying colors. "I. T. U." followed so close behind "Eight Hours" that there was some contention as to whether it was a tie. "I. T. U." was ridden by young Sam Curry, who, although he did a hefty tattoo on the mule's back throughout the mile, managed to stay with his mount to the finish. "Barber," ridden by Tony Catro, came third, while "Twelve Hours" failed to finish the race, coming out in the last quarter. "Eight Hours" made the mile in 3 minutes, 51 seconds.

50-Yard Dash for Boys.

The 50-yard dash for boys under 10 years was won by William Strauss, first, and Stacy Phillips, second. Strauss and Phillips also came out first and second in the amusing peanut race for boys.

E. J. McDevett won the 50-yard dash for boys over 10, M. E. Turner coming second.

The 100-yard dash for men was won by G. H. Morgan, first, and V. H. Thompson, second.

Miss Ruth Walker came out winner in the 50-yard dash for girls under 10, Miss Jewell Clack coming second.

The "free-for-all pace and trot" harness race, which was the last feature of the program, resulted as follows:

First Heat: Oxomis, driven by Dr. D. L. Peacock, first; Miss Roxie Fuller, driven by John Fuller, second; Del Monte Boy, driven by Baron Dillon, third; George, driven by John Corley, fourth; J. S. W., driven by Jack Reider, fifth. Oxomis made the mile in 2 minutes 21 seconds.

Second Heat: Miss Roxie Fuller, first; George, second; Del Monte Boy, third; J. S. W., fourth. The fifth horse did not finish in the second heat.

Dancing was in full sway in the Liberal Arts building from 10:30 in the morning until 10:30 at night. Good music was provided and hundreds of young men and women refused to leave the fox-trot for the horse-trot in the afternoon.

There was not a dull moment during the day, and the determination of the entertainment committee to make the day the most successful Labor day ever celebrated in Atlanta was gratified, and even though the elimination of the usual Labor day parade was decided upon by the committees as a war measure, it was not missed. The thousands of visitors to Lakewood Monday were well satisfied with the program provided for their entertainment.

Most of the public offices were closed Monday and not only the families of labor union men joined the throngs at Lakewood, but many friends of labor and motorcycle and horse race enthusiasts lined the banks about the race track and filled the grandstand.

Committees in Charge.

The committees of the Atlanta Federation of Trades which had charge of Monday's celebration are as follows:

Program and Amusement Committee—W. C. Puckett, chairman; W. C. Caraway, J. R. Hardeman, R. M. Striplin, Harry Lewis, Dick Jemison, Morgan Blake, Gus Castle, G. A Storey and E. L. Wilcox.

OFFICERS ASSIGNED TO THEIR COMMANDS

booked to leave Tuesday morning early.

Transfer was also announced of four second lieutenants, who have been ordered to join the replacement battalion of the Twenty-sixth infantry, now at Fort Oglethorpe. They left the cantonment en route to Chattanooga late Monday afternoon.

Chamblee will be the point of disembarkation for the soldiers of the new national army, the first contingent of which is due to arrive tomorrow at Camp Gordon.

General Swift Monday notified all the district registration boards in this state, Alabama and Florida, that transportation of the draft men should be direct to Chamblee, via the Southern railway. Draft men who cannot travel over the Southern railway direct will be met at the Atlanta Terminal station and transferred to special cars that will transport them to Chamblee. Officers will be detailed both to the Terminal station and to the Chamblee depot to look after the men on their arrival and to take care of their baggage.

BUILDINGS READY.

By Tuesday night every building at the cantonment will be ready for occupancy. The division staff has been pushing forward construction work in every quarter of the big cantonment. A few days ago headquarters gave orders that buildings under construction in four blocks at the camp be made ready for occupancy last night. Contractors put on extra men to complete the job and at sundown Monday the last nails were driven in the structures.

Completion of the buildings, however, does not mean that they are 100 per cent perfect in equipment. There are a number of details, such as screening, for instance, that will take several weeks to finish. But all of the buildings will be in such shape tonight that the soldiers may move in and be comfortable.

Finish of the work at the big cantonment so quickly has amazed many of the army officers at Camp Gordon, and is conceded to be a high tribute to the ingenuity of Atlanta's construction interests. Approximately 8,000 workmen were on the job at quitting time last night.

Assignments of Officers.

Following is a list, prepared especially for The Constitution, of the assignments given officers of the reserve corps now at Camp Gordon:

More Cooks Needed For Big Draft Army At the Cantonment

Fifty class B cooks, receiving $90 per month, with free room and board, are wanted at Camp Gordon at once, and 125 additional are wanted by the first of October, according to Will V. Zimmer, assistant chairman of the committee which is working under the direction of the National Hotel Men's association to secure cooks for the cantonment.

Men of all-round cooking experience, that is, those who can prepare meats, vegetables, make soups, pies, biscuits, puddings and other dishes, desired. Colored men are wanted also. One hundred and thirty-five men have already been secured, and are now at the Camp, where they are giving complete satisfaction.

Lee Barnes is chairman and Will V. Zimmer is assistant chairman of the local committee, with headquarters at the Majestic hotel.

CLERKS OF SEABOARD DECIDE TO STRIKE

Raleigh, N. C., September 3.—About fifty clerks employed in the office here of the master mechanic and the superintendent of the Virginia division of the Seaboard Air Line railway have voted to strike tomorrow unless the railroad grants a 20 per cent blanket increase in wages and recognizes the Jacksonville, Tampa and Raleigh locals of the Brotherhood of Railway Clerks. The Raleigh local of the Brotherhood was organized Saturday night and immediately voted to strike today if the demands were not granted. Action later was postponed twenty-four hours in order to permit railway officials here to get in touch with headquarters.

Clerks in Jacksonville and Tampa went on strike last week, it was said, and it was understood the clerks in Tampa later refused a 9 per cent increase in wages offered by the company as a compromise.

NEGRO TROOPS BARRED OUT OF MONTGOMERY

Black Soldiers From Ohio Are Being Closely Confined to Camp.

Montgomery, Ala., September 3.—Rigid precautions are being taken at the national guard training camp here to guard against the possibility of trouble through the presence of a company of negro infantry with the Ninth separate Ohio battalion. Members of the company are confined closely to camp and allowed no leave for trips into Montgomery, where attempts to enter theaters or to ride in the white sections of street cars might lead to disorders.

Captain Caldwell, the negro commanding officer, said today he expected no difficulty.

Asked regarding the situation here he stated:

"My men are down here as soldiers. We understand that there are some customs which we must adapt ourselves to, and if there is any trouble the trouble will come from outside my company. We expect no trouble, and believe that we will gain the respect of every white citizen of Montgomery during our stay here."

THE COMPLEXION COMES FROM WITHIN THE BODY

To maintain a good complexion, or to regain a lost complexion, it is necessary to eliminate all wastes of the body regularly—constipation causes a bad complexion—pimples, sallowness. Inactive liver results in constipation—a clogging of the entire system and the poisons that are daily generated in the system, instead of being eliminated are absorbed, resulting in bilious headache, listlessness, sallowness, bad complexion and eczema.

Take an effervescent glass of JACOBS' LIVER SALT and see how quickly the liver responds and by its action removing the undigested food from the stomach, flushing the bowels, cleansing the blood, and reviving the entire system, so that the motley complexion, the coated tongue, the yellow tinted eyes will all be changed.

JACOBS' LIVER SALT will keep the blood free of impurities by removing the impure food from the bowels. It will stimulate the liver to its natural activities. Better health will ensue. Gentle in action, is effervescent, and therefore pleasant to take; has no "after" effect. Sold by druggists, or sent direct. 35 and 75 cents.

NEW OFFICIAL ORDER CHANGES GA. TROOPS

First, Second and Fifth Regiments Receive New Designations.

BY FRANK CRAIGIE
(Special Correspondent.)

Macon, Ga., September 3.—(Special.) Major General F. J. Kernan issued the order today which fixed the official designation of the Georgia National Guard troops.

The Second regiment becomes the 123d infantry, the Fifth regiment will be the 124th infantry and the First regiment goes out of the infantry classification entirely, becoming the 118th field artillery.

Battery B, of Atlanta, and Battery C, of Savannah, together with the Georgia squadron of cavalry, including the Governor's Horse guard of Atlanta, become the 116th field artillery. Battery A, of Savannah, merges with the Alabama cavalry into the 117th field artillery. Separate Troop A, of the Georgia cavalry, the Savannah troops, will be reserved by the division as its headquarters troop. The machine gun company of the First regiment will be the nucleus of a new machine gun battalion.

Company A, of the Georgia engineers, will form part of a battalion of engineers, and has already been ordered to Camp Wheeler. The separate infantry companies now at Winder, Hartwell and Elberton will be consolidated with the Second regiment into the 123d infantry, replacing the three Macon companies now with the rainbow division.

Between fifty and sixty officers of the reserve corps arrived at Camp Harris today for assignment to companies of the Second and Fifth regiments. They came from Camp Jackson, Columbia, S. C., as a part of two hundred who were ordered to Camp Wheeler for duty. No definite date has been announced for the removal to Camp Wheeler of the troops now at Camp Harris.

PICTURE OF LANIER GIVEN TO OGLETHORPE

Mrs. Clifford Anderson, of Macon, Ga., has made Oglethorpe university a gift of a large picture of Sidney Lanier, done in crayon, and representing Lanier as he was at Oglethorpe college in 1857, at the age of 15. Lanier was at that time a sophomore and had just entered the institution.

The picture is elegantly framed, also by the generosity of Mrs. Anderson, and has been hung in the president's office side by side with Lanier's diploma, which he won three years later. This latter is the gift of his widow, now living at Greenwich, Conn. who will be crippled in war.

Two Who Attempted To Commit Suicide Expected to Recover

Physicians at the hospital Monday discovered the identity of the young woman who attempted to end her life Sunday night by drinking a large amount of carbolic acid at a Marietta street pharmacy. She is Miss Eva Lang, 21, of 615 Simpson street. She was suffering intense pain Monday, and continued to beg the nurses to allow her to die. She declared that she would end her life as soon as she is at liberty. It is stated that she will recover.

ATLANTA MAY GET STATE DISTRIBUTOR FOR CROW-ELKHART

J. T. Sandwich, special representative of the Crow-Elkhart company, Elkhart, Ind., is in the city looking over the automobile field, with the purpose in view of placing a state distributor in Atlanta for handling Crow-Elkhart automobiles.

The Crow-Elkhart has been on the market for a great many years, but has never been manufactured in any great number until last year, when the growing demand for this popular car became so great that the manufacturers were forced to more than double their capacity.

Mr. Sandwich, while in the city, is stopping at the Ansley hotel, where he will be glad to meet automobile dealers who are interested in handling a popular priced car.

Mr. Sandwich is also prepared to offer a large territory and unusual agent discounts to the right kind of a dealer.

FALL TERM OF COURTS BEGINS THIS MORNING

With dockets filled to capacity, the courts of Fulton county will begin the fall term today, the day for reconvening having been changed from Monday on account of Labor day.

The criminal division of the superior court will be convened next Monday, at which time the grand jury will be sworn in.

Judge Ben H. Hill will preside over the criminal division of superior court, while Judge George L. Bell will handle the motion division during the new term. Judge W. D. Ellis and Judge J. T. Pendleton will hear all jury cases in the civil division.

Under a new arrangement five divorce cases have been placed on the docket for each day, the divorce court having been abolished.

Judge Andy Calhoun, of the city criminal court, has a heavy docket ahead of him. There are about 500 cases for running disorderly houses, keeping blind tigers and gambling to be disposed of in this court.

JITNEY BUS OWNERS TO MEET TOMORROW

Plans for raising the fund to finance the appeal of the jitney bus case to the supreme court of the United States will be outlined at a meeting of jitney owners at 9:30 o'clock Wednesday morning in the law offices of Attorney Leonard J. Grossman. A list of those operating under the protection of the injunction will be compiled at that time and furnished the police authorities, and the reported move of the authorities to institute prosecutions of all jitney operators not protected by the injunction appeal to the United States supreme court secured by Attorney Leonard Grossman and Judge James K. Hines in the supreme court of Georgia will be discussed.

Plans of the People's Transportation company for handling the traffic to Camp Gordon will also be considered, and the importance of protecting the cost bond in the jitney case discussed.

Dixie Highway Tour Georgia-Mississippi Starts at Columbus

Columbus, Ga., September 3.—(Special.)—The Dixie overland highway run to Vicksburg, Miss., was formally inaugurated this morning when a number of cars left Columbus for that city, going via Montgomery and Meridian. It was expected this morning that cars would join the Columbus party at practically every Alabama point of importance.

John S. Bleecker, of Columbus, president of the Dixie Overland Highway association, headed the procession in the pacemaker's car, with Mrs. Bleecker at the wheel.

The entire trip will take about six days, and will be marked by good roads celebrations and banquets.

Secretary Leland J. Henderson, of the Dixie Overland Highway association, who returned Saturday night from a tour of the Alabama section of the highway, reports that it is in fully as good condition as that part of the highway in Georgia.

DR. R. O. FLINN URGED TO REMAIN IN ATLANTA

At a meeting last night of the session and diaconate of the North Avenue Presbyterian church, unanimous appeals were made to Rev. Richard Orme Flinn to retain his pastorate of the church. Dr. Flinn has been invited to assume the pastorate of the Central Presbyterian church, of St. Louis, and he is giving the call serious consideration.

Every officer in the North Avenue church was present at the meeting and they individually urged Dr. Flinn to remain in Atlanta, promising him the most hearty co-operation of every department of the church in his work here. Dr. Flinn announced no decision at the meeting and left with the understandign that he will give the matter "deepest consideration."

TAX RATE OF COUNTY TO REMAIN THE SAME

The tax rate for Fulton county for the new year will be fixed by the county commissioners this week. It is the opinion of various county officials that the existing rate of 75 cents on the $100 will remain in effect.

Year before last a reduction in the tax rate was made from 85 cents to 75 cents, this being made possible by the completion of payment for the million and a quarter courthouse. It had been hoped by the commissioners earlier in the year that a decrease would be possible for the coming year, but it is thought now that conditions do not warrant a reduction. It is considered certain that no increase will be voted.

Council of Augusta Soon May Authorize Women Police Officers

Augusta, Ga., September 3.—(Special.)—There will come before the city council Tuesday night a proposition to employ two women police officers in Augusta. The movement has the approval of the civil service commission, which hires all policemen, but as the city provides the money for salaries, such a recommendation must come from it. If the council says "yes," the commission will have two jobs for women on the force.

COURSES "THOROUGH AND PRACTICAL," SAY DRAUGHON'S COLLEGE GRADUATES

Students, After Going Out Into the Business World, Express Appreciation for Their Thorough and Practical Training at Draughon's.

H. R. TODD,
President Draughon's Business College, Atlanta, Ga.

Every one of the hundreds of complimentary letters received by Draughon's Business College from its former students, testify to the thorough courses of study and the practical methods of training young people for responsible positions—the kind of training that enables them to go into a business office and know what to do, and be able to do it efficiently and with ease. This is exactly the reason why the graduates of Draughon's Business College secure better positions and command larger salaries to begin with than graduates of other business colleges. This is why business men call at Draughon's first for office help.

The following complimentary letter from Mr. L. L. Wiley, steno-bookkeeper for the Reliance Insurance Co., is self-explanatory:

"After completing a four years' course in high school, I immediately enrolled in your Atlanta College for a course in Bookkeeping and Shorthand.

"It is a source of much satisfaction to me that I attended your college in preference to any other, as I am now holding the second position that you have secured for me. It is a position just to my liking, and I am sure I could not have been better pleased.

"I wish to thank the faculty at Draughon's for the courteous treatment and the thorough and practical instruction I received while there. I feel safe in saying that the system of Bookkeeping, 'Draughon's Double Entry Made Easy,' and your methods of teaching Graham Shorthand and Touch Type-writing, are not to be excelled anywhere in the South."

Will the People of Atlanta and Vicinity Permit Its Established Industries to Be Driven Out by a Few Agitators?

MORRIS FERTILIZER WORKS, ARMOUR STATION
Field of Corn and Mixed Peas to Delight Any Farmer's Eye.

WOULD it be possible to grow these crops on our land and around our works at Armour Station if there was the slightest emission of injurious gas or fumes?

Observe the forest growth beyond the fields. The ears may hear misrepresentation, but the eye cannot be deceived.

MORRIS FERTILIZER WORKS, ARMOUR STATION
Field of Corn and Velvet Beans—Notice Luxuriant Forest Growth Beyond the Field.

We Believe the People of This Community Will See to It That We Are Granted A SQUARE DEAL!

That is all we ask in the present controversy between certain few people residing on Peachtree Road and vicinity and the fertilizer interests located at Armour or Mina Stations, Ga.

The press of Atlanta during the past several days has given publicity to the efforts of Mr. J. J. Haverty and associates to secure support of their scheme to incorporate a town to be known as North Atlanta, of unusual dimensions, vaguely suggested by them, which would embrace territory somewhere around 3 miles long and 2½ miles wide, just north of the present city limits of Atlanta, the major portion of which now consists of fields under cultivation and swamps, with the avowed published purpose of accomplishing the ejection of the fertilizer interests from their locations at Armour Station or Mina Station, which has been an established fertilizer manufacturing point for the past twenty years—long, long before Mr. Haverty and many of his associates built their houses on Peachtree road, which are located nearly 1½ miles away from these plants.

THE FACTS

Apart from their ridiculous complaints, we want to give you the concrete facts and the truth regarding the entire proposition and the propaganda inaugurated by Mr. Haverty and his associates for your common-sense consideration, leaving it to you to decide if either of us are evils which is the greater of the two—we, with our efforts to develop, foster and encourage the industrial and commercial interests of Atlanta and vicinity and to aid the agricultural development of Georgia, the Premier State of the South, in connection with our general upbuilding interest in the entire South and the intelligent instruction and advice we give to the farmers of the State, or the efforts of a few agitators whose purposes are purely selfish, who seek to remove from the community industries of great value to it, and who, if successful, would benefit only themselves to the injury of all others. We are constrained to believe their motive is entirely a selfish one—we have no reason to believe otherwise. Mr. Haverty built his home on Peachtree road with the full knowledge of the fact that the fertilizer companies were in operation about 1½ miles away; prior to Mr. Haverty's having taken up his residence in that section the companies heard no complaints.

It has taken Mr. Haverty several years to develop even a suspicion of complaint, despite his constant efforts. As stated above, we wonder what Mr. Haverty's motive is and some others of his associates. The following correspondence passed between Mr. Haverty and this company and clearly indicates the insincerity and injustice of which this company has met at the hands of Mr. Haverty and those in league with him:

May 24, 1917.

Mr. J. W. Robinson,
Vice President Morris Fertilizer Company,
801 Third National Bank Building,
City.

My Dear Sir:

I write to acknowledge receipt of your letter of the 23d. I am very glad to read your statement in this letter that your company is installing certain devices to do away with the acid fumes in your plant. Your plant needs these appliances very badly. From my own personal knowledge, I am sure your plant has been a great offender in distributing acid fumes in the neighborhood in which I am interested.

Last Sunday the fumes were bad. I am informed your plant was running and the Armour plant was not. I called the attention of Mr. Cresse to the fumes which were escaping and which were very plain at my residence at 6 o'clock in the evening. He suggested that I call you, but I could not get you over the telephone, and I take this occasion to write you about the trouble last Sunday. What astounds me most in this matter is that the plants most offending are trying to escape responsibility and the consequences of the great nuisance of the acid fumes. However, you indicate a disposition to insist upon your people putting in modern and we hope complete condensing machinery, and we trust that some good may be accomplished and relief afforded the sufferers from the acid fumes. As to how well this may be done, I suppose we will have to depend upon what the future brings forth, after the condensers are given a trial.

We have been very patient, and we are willing to be patient longer, but an end must come to this trouble. People whose interests and property are being injured have taken a determined stand in this matter, and, unless the fumes are abated, steps will be taken to stop them.

With kindest personal regards, I am,
Very truly yours,
(Signed) J. J. HAVERTY.

Mr. J. J. Haverty, June 2nd, 1917.
Care Haverty Furniture Co.,
Atlanta, Ga.

Dear Sir:

Your valued letter of the 24th ult. is at hand, and we have read your remarks with much interest, especially where you state "Last Sunday the fumes were bad. I am informed that your plant was running and the Armour plant was not. I called attention of Mr. Cresse to the fumes which were escaping, and which were very plain at my residence at 6 o'clock in the evening."

In reply to these remarks, we would say that on that Sunday afternoon, about 6 o'clock, our superintendent, Mr. Hipp, telephoned the writer that you had had such a conversation over the phone with Mr. Cresse, and Mr. Hipp stated that, as usual, on Sunday our fertilizer plant was not running, but our chambers were in their usual operation, emitting no sulphurous gases or fumes—the only emission was the usual slight amount of nitrous smoke from the cupola, which, as explained in our letter of the 23d, is neither injurious nor objectionable, and Mr. Hipp further remarked: "I observe that smoke from the steel plant is being carried by the wind, which is blowing from the west (just a little by south) in a little northeasterly direction, consequently the direction of the wind is such as would make it an impracticable and natural impossibility for odors, gas, or fumes escaping from our plant, if any, to reach Mr. Haverty or any other property situated in his neighborhood." * * * * In complete line with the foregoing we have consulted the official records of the Weather Bureau situated at Atlanta, in connection with the course of the wind on that day, morning, afternoon and evening. They are as follows:

SUNDAY, MAY 20TH—WINDAGE.

11 to 12 a. m. From West. Velocity 10 miles per hour.
12 to 1 p. m. From Northwest. Velocity 10 miles per hour.
1 to 2 p. m. From West. Velocity 12 miles per hour.
2 to 3 p. m. From West. Velocity 10 miles per hour.
3 to 4 p. m. From West. Velocity 8 miles per hour.
4 to 5 p. m. From West. Velocity 9 miles per hour.
5 to 6 p. m. From West. Velocity 9 miles per hour.
6 to 7 p. m. From Southwest. Velocity 5 miles per hour.
7 to 8 p. m. From Southwest. Velocity 4 miles per hour.

Consequently, you will kindly take note that due to the observations corroborated officially by the information we obtained from the Weather Bureau Service that even though any plants in the vicinity of Armour Station were emitting any gases of any nature whatsoever they would have been carried in a direction almost directly opposite and away from you, and in this connection we are glad to be able to give you the foregoing information, because such a situation doubtless prevailed in times past when you, in the absence of facts, thought the gases or odors you observed were from the fertilizer plants—we are confident you do not desire to do us an injustice in this respect.

We feel that we should take exceptions to that further portion of your letter in which you state our plant needs devices badly to do away with fumes. We have at the present time the most modern devices known to engineers and science, which are successfully in operation, but even with this being the case, we are constantly endeavoring to keep this apparatus abreast with the latest developments in such lines, and it was for that reason that we have had the most eminent engineer in the United States visit our works and instructed him to double-rivet our condensing apparatus up to the minute, which he is now arranging to do.

While we regret the necessity of having to write you at such length in order to fully and frankly explain to you the facts surrounding the subject matter of your letter, we feel that on the other hand you would not allow an unjust opinion to rest in your mind against us, but on the contrary, would be glad to have the information which we feel that you should know, and that in so far as this company is concerned you should not have a just cause for complaint.

Yours very truly,
MORRIS FERTILIZER COMPANY.
By J. W. ROBINSON,
Vice President.

It will be observed from the foregoing communication that Mr. Haverty positively accused us and made the point-blank statement that "fumes were bad," when according to the records maintained by the Federal Government at Atlanta, which are unquestionably correct, it was found that the wind had been blowing, during the entire period complained of by Mr. Haverty, from a direction which would have carried any fumes or odors or gases in a directly opposite direction from the residence or home of Mr. Haverty, and in addition to that fact the wind was blowing at a velocity varying from 4 to 12 miles per hour.

WHAT IS THE ANSWER?

Are real estate developing companies interested? Druid Hills, through their secretary, has issued a card to the press stating that they are not a party to this complaint. We congratulate the people in this section of the city upon the honesty of their statement and the fair attitude they have assumed, and Druid Hills is not an exception. They state that their air is as pure as any other section of this great Piedmont territory. We believe that their statement is true and we further believe that the air on Peachtree road, barring the dust and smoke of traffic, is as pure as that of Druid Hills—we know the air surrounding our plant at Armour or Mina Station is as pure as that of Peachtree road or Druid Hills—we are glad the Buckhead section is not deceived. We do Know that some of the property around the section referred to is owned and controlled by some development companies—is it the purpose of these companies to saddle lots of small dimensions on working people at a price in excess of the cost of one acre to them? So much down and so much per month or otherwise for the balance of their natural lives, or until the entire amount is paid up? It is the class of people who are largely dependent upon our industry and similar ones for their livelihood.

LOCATION.

The natural topography of the land around Armour or Mina Station, including Belt Junction, is such that it is unsuited for any purpose other than for the location of manufacturing industries, such as our business—the country is very rugged and hilly and extends into a swamp in the vicinity of Peachtree Creek. It was devised by nature for the use of such industries as ours in order to meet the demand upon Atlanta as the Southern fertilizer headquarters for sufficient plant food to raise even a respectable crop upon the lands of the State, thousands of acres of which are exceedingly destitute of plant food.

EQUIPMENT OF OUR PLANT.

The company at the time of erection of its works in 1909 provided every known device for the control of all noxious odors or gases or fumes. We did not build our works as some works have been built and wait until we were forced to install devices for the control of odors arising in the process of manufacturing fertilizers, but having in mind in the inception that the public interest was our interest, we provided these devices, without complaint or demand from any source, but solely to satisfy ourselves, and we have, ever since that time, taken advantage of and installed every new principle or method which would seek to improve our equipment. Within the past twelve months we have spent a sum varying from $10,000 to $15,000, under the direction of the most eminent chemical engineer in America, and the work is continuing. The citizens of Atlanta have our assurances that we not only have been and are continuing to keep abreast with the most modern and successful devices for the purpose of control, but, we ourselves, are continuing our own work of investigation along these lines. The materials we use are practically odorless. We have never used fish scrap in any form and never expect to, which subject is a harping point of the agitators. We deny and challenge each and every one of the complainants and agitators to prove that this company has ever emitted from its works deleterious, offensive or injurious gases which might cause injury to animal or plant life.

GRANT US AN APPEAL.

If this company or any other company in the fertilizer business has caused damage in any degree to any one of the agitators, the laws of the State of Georgia provide remedies for recovering any damage or preventing injustice to them or their property. Why then do these people seek to form a town? The only answer we know is that some of them realize the injustice of their complaints and that they are without foundation, and further that no Georgia jury would grant them a verdict such as they desire. They, therefore, attempt to get on our "blind side," so to speak, by forming a town, whose Mayor and Council they would probably control; taxing the owners of the property included in their town for the sole purpose of maintaining an organization for the oppression of ourselves and the other fertilizer companies located near us. Are they afraid to give us a day in court before an impartial and fair jury and under the equitable laws of the Commonwealth? We seek no favors, but we ask our friends to carefully weigh whether or not we are receiving the proper treatment at the hands of the wealthy citizens who are behind this movement.

WILL CAPITAL CONTINUE TO INVEST IN ATLANTA?

It is hard for us to conceive how any large industry can invest its funds in Atlanta and vicinity if they are to be subjected to the same persecution as these people are endeavoring to place upon us. We do not see how the investors could feel that their investments were safe or secure, nor how they could assure their stockholders that they had made a wise and proper choice by locating in Atlanta, if they are to undergo similar persecutions without the opportunity of having the issue decided by fair, unbiased and impartial tribunals. Can the other interests located in Atlanta now feel free to expand and develop their industry as long as agitators, such as Mr. Haverty and his associates are herein proven to be, are permitted to have their unbridled rein? We know the citizens of Atlanta will not stand for it—the investment in the fertilizer manufacturing industry in Atlanta amounts to several million dollars; their annual consumption of material, supplies, freights and pay roll approximates four or five millions per annum. The increased production of agricultural products raised in the state by the use of fertilizers obtained in Atlanta is variously estimated at from $25,000,000 to $40,000,000 per annum, in addition to which the fertilizer interests lends vast importance to the banking institutions and clearings of the city and to the local insurance agencies. We feel that we are reasonable in the statement that the industry in this city is the means of livelihood to 10,000 persons—can any other industry claim as much?

We place all the foregoing before the citizens of Atlanta and vicinity in all honesty and sincerity with the hope in view that each and every one will consider the character of the work we are doing; our efforts to improve the welfare of the people of this State and, especially at this trying time when the Government is requesting us to exert every possible means to increase our production of fertilizer materials in order to meet the great demand in this country and among our Allies for food products, and after all of our remarks have received your due consideration, we feel secure in the conviction that you will be able to intelligently, honestly and candidly view it and will conclude that we are being greatly imposed upon and, to the best of your ability, will see that we have all we ask for, and that is only FAIR PLAY.

THE ENEMIES AT HOME.

Since the government subscribed itself to make common cause with the entente allies in war upon Prussian autocracy we have heard much about a class officially listed as "alien enemies"—German subjects domiciled in this country. But there is an even more dangerous element composed of American citizens who, under one pretext or another, have been and are now doing everything within the scope of their power or influence to hamper the working out of their country's military policies.

They are not "alien enemies," but enemies, nevertheless, to their country. They are native enemies, the enemies at home, more insidious and more harmful than any alien, and some of them are in high places.

For instance, there is William Hale Thompson, mayor of America's second city, Chicago, who has just put the capstone on a structure of unpatriotic, if not seditious, actions—official and semi-official—by openly defying the governor of his state and conniving with a so-called "pacifist" band to hold a meeting of menace and to organize a national movement looking to the crippling of this government's arm in the war and the corresponding strengthening of the war-arm of this country's enemy.

This un-American, unpatriotic band had been refused the tolerance of three states in succession. The authorities of North Dakota, Wisconsin and Minnesota had forbidden its members to hold their proposed meeting within their respective states. Then the governor of Illinois followed suit, denying them the right to meet in his jurisdiction, on the grounds that their meeting was "designed for the purpose of bringing on draft riots and obstructing the government in other respects."

But Mayor Thompson bade them go ahead; and he set the police to protect them while they hurried through with their session before state troops could be rushed to the city to enforce the governor's orders. In other words, the mayor defied the authority of the governor and took advantage of the absence of troops from the city in order to help hamstring his own country and play into the hand of the kaiser!

What of such a mayor, anyhow! What of such an American! Yet he is about to open his campaign for the United States senate!

However, should he, by any freak turn of politics, succeed in attaining the senate, he will not be alone there. He will, regrettable as it is, find a few—a very few—kindred spirits there, in men who, from the first day of our armed hostilities, have blocked their country's progress to the limit of their capabilities.

Just what is the object of Thompson, and those of his ilk in the United States senate and out of it, is something hard to fathom. What do they expect to gain?

Not friends, surely. Notoriety, possibly; but certainly not fame!

A modicum of political support, perhaps; but that of a character that is shunned and spurned by men of pride and high ideals.

Indeed, the motives of such men are as mystifying to the average citizen as the motives of Senator Hardwick in introducing his anti-foreign service bill were to The New York Times, which, in its issue of last Saturday said editorially:

> The senate military affairs committee yesterday voted unanimously against Senator Hardwick's bill prohibiting the sending of drafted troops abroad without their consent. The bill could not have been introduced with any expectation that it would pass, or with any expectation that the committee would even report it favorably. Its object was not to endear Senator Hardwick to the people of Georgia, for that patriotic people is supporting the government and the war with all its heart, and each new performance of Hardwick's merely adds to the bitterness which Georgians feel over the way in which the great name of their state is being humbled in the senate by him. What was the object?
> We have no doubt what the effect was. Every such bill and resolution, every speech against the war by a senator, is hurried over to Russia and to Germany by the busy German agents here and made use of in both those countries, to convince the people that this country is not really in the war and will soon get out altogether. The aim is to hearten the Germans and dishearten the Russians. If the Germans can be heartened sufficiently to hope for victory and the Russians disheartened sufficiently to conclude a separate peace, then the task of the young men we are sending to France will be rendered trebly hard, and their lives will be sacrificed in much greater numbers in consequence. This is the effect of such bills as Mr. Hardwick's. We do not know what their object is.

Nor do we. Neither do we know the object of such actions as those of Hardwick's anti-administration colleagues during the last few months, and of Mayor Thompson and his anti-American confederates; but we do know their effect, and how they disgust Americans with patriotic blood in their veins.

THE NEGRO Y. M. C. A. FUND.

In essaying to raise a fund of $10,000 with which to insure the speedy completion of the new negro Y. M. C. A. edifice the colored denominations of Atlanta have embarked upon an enterprise which merits the assistance of every public-spirited citizen, irrespective of race or nationality.

Under any circumstances the purpose would be a commendable one, and the appeal should meet with hearty response; but it is peculiarly appropriate just at this time, on the eve of an influx of some 4,000 or more negro recruits to the national army, who will be put in training at Camp Gordon.

Those troops certainly will spend more or less time in Atlanta during their hours of recreation, and, as was pointed out at a meeting of ministers last week, unless they have a place to go to, where they may meet and spend a social hour under proper supervision and amidst proper surroundings, they will certainly congregate in less desirable places and evil results might follow.

The Y. M. C. A. will afford an ideal solution to that problem. More than that, the edifice proposed, when completed, will be a credit and object of civic pride to Atlanta.

Therefore, while the negro churches of the city, with commendable courage and determination, have set about the task of recruiting the necessary funds within their own race and their own denomination, it nevertheless behooves every patriotic and every civicly loyal citizen to help in hastening the completion of this plant.

WHAT WOULD HE HAVE?

A Seattle man—and a professor of political economy in a high school at that—has filed a categorical list of reasons why he claims exemption from military service for his country. Here it is:

> I am opposed to the taking of life in any way as being contrary to the fundamental principles of morality and Christianity.
> I believe in the sacredness of human life and my conscience forbids inflicting either death or injury on my fellow beings.
> I believe in the international brotherhood of man; that above all nations is humanity.
> I hold deeply to the conviction that no government has moral right to compel a citizen to kill his fellow man. Such an order on the part of a government is a direct command to commit murder.
> I am opposed to the present war in particular because it is not a war for democracy, but a war for imperialistic aggrandisement.
> Any attempt to force me to undertake military service is a violation of the thirteenth amendment to the constitution.

Here is an American citizen, supported directly out of the treasury of his state, who owes his state for the education it gave him—or at least permitted him to acquire—who every day of his life enjoys the protection of the state's laws and the liberties and the other attributes of blessed American citizenship, yet who is so ungrateful as to be unwilling to fight for his state and his country when it is menaced by the blackest foe that ever "cut a throat or scuttled a ship!"

Those things, in his opinion, are not worth fighting for! Or, if they are, he is unwilling to do his share of the necessary fighting, for fear that he might hurt somebody!

He must admit—as every misguided pacifist must admit—that the heritages and blessings of American citizenship cannot now be saved without fighting.

Then, what string would he be strumming upon one or two or three years hence did all American citizens assume his attitude and refuse to fight?

An appropriate way to treat such a man, who objects to doing anything for his country in time of need, would be for the country to refuse hereafter to do anything for him!

Suppose the government and the state were to single out such men, mark them and their houses and their households, and exempt them entirely from the protection and the beneficence of the flag—

How long before they would be uttering the wail of Hale's "Man Without a Country!" How long before they would be willing—nay, eager—to fight!

The captain of a German U-boat dined and wined an American captain. They seldom do that before they drown them.

Hoover-training will be fine for bringing down the fatness of the overfed to military requirements.

The Season's Song.

It's this for the rhyme and the reason:
The song still came after the sigh,
And so much of joy in
each season,
We don't tell a season
"Good-by!"

For when it is going,
The rich and the poor
They reap from its sowing
At Memory's Door.

Summer and Autumn, we greet them,
Glad of their glimpses of sky,
Friends, when at morning we meet them,
And Night never murmurs "Good-by!"

We still would enfold them
And love them the more,
Friends still, to hold them
At Memory's Door.

Glove-Making Industry In Grenoble Paralyzed By High Price of Flour

Washington, September 3.—"One of the many curious trade reflexes of the world war is revealed in a report recently received from the United States consul at Grenoble, France, in which it is stated that the great glove-making industry of this famous old capital of the Dauphine district is seriously jeopardized by the inability to secure flour at normal prices. The flour is used extensively in the preparation of the skins from which no less than 800,000 dozen pairs of gloves were made annually before the war in this district, giving employment to 24,000 persons, four-fifths of whom were women," says a war geography bulletin of the National Geographic Society issued today on Grenoble, the chief city of the department of Isere in southeastern France, 75 miles by rail from Lyons.

"With a population of more than 75,000 in 1914, Grenoble is one of the most beautifully situated cities in France. It is built on a 700-foot embankment on both sides of the River Isere just above its confluence with the Drac, and it is almost completely girdled with mountains, some of which rise to an elevation of 10,000 feet. To the north tower the heights of the Grand Chartreuse, which lends its name to the monastery familiarly known as the birthplace of a famous liquer. Before the war thousands of tourists from England and America flocked here every season.

"Most of the newer portion of the city, with its broad, straight thoroughfares, lies on the left bank of the Isere while the small, original town, with narrow, tortuous streets, nestles at the foot of the southern slope of Mount Rachais, on the right bank. Back of the old town is a succession of fortifications extending up the heights, and these are part of the defenses disposed over the surrounding hills, making Grenoble one of the most strongly fortified towns in all France.

"Grenoble has been a stronghold since the days of Roman occupation. Both Diocletion and Maximian contributed to its defenses in the third century, but the town, which occupies the site of a village of the Alloborges, derives its name from a Roman emperor of the succeeding century—Gratian, he who prohibited heathen worship in Rome, and during whose reign Christianity became dominant throughout the empire. Gratianopolis it was then called, but was later corrupted and shortened to Grenoble.

"After the disintegration of the Roman empire Grenoble was in turn a possession of the Franks and the Burgundians and then a part of the kingdom of Provence. In the middle ages the city and its province of Dauphine were under the domination of its bishops for many years. They were succeeded by the Counts of Albon, who assumed the title of Dauphin du Viennois. In the middle of the fourteenth century the counts ceded the whole district to the French crown with the proviso that it should always be the dependency of the king's oldest son. Hence, the heir apparent to the throne became known as the Dauphin. For 150 years after it passed to the crown the city was the seat of the inquisition and persecution of the Waldensians, the religious sect founded in 1170 by Peter Waldo in the neighboring city of Lyons.

"When Napoleon began his march through France after his return from Elba for the historic Hundred Days, Grenoble was the first city to welcome him with open gates. This was on March 7, 1815, four months later it was forced to surrender to an Austrian army.

"Grenoble's most treasured shrine is a monument in the Church of St. Andre, which marks the resting place of the beau ideal of the age of chivalry, Chevalier Bayard, the knight 'sans peur et sans reproche.' He was one of the ablest military leaders of the middle ages, and all the researches of modern historians have only served to confirm the tributes which his contemporaries bestowed with such lavish hands upon him whom they affectionately and admiringly addressed as 'le bon chevalier.'"

OVER 100 LAWYERS HAVE ENTERED ARMY FROM ATLANTA ALONE

The unusual number of lawyers who have gone into officers' training camps or other branches of government service incident to the war, has created such a scarcity in the profession as to affect the ordinary business of the courts.

More than 100 lawyers have gone into the army from Atlanta alone, and other communities over the state have supplied them in proportion. As a rule, the large proportion of them are young lawyers associated with older firms, and this has left the latter largely without office assistance.

This interesting situation is already reflected in applications for admission to the law schools this fall. The Atlanta Law school has had many inquiries bearing directly on this point. Of course the old law firms will generally take these young men back at the end of the war, if they want to come; but the condition furnishes an interesting instance of the operation of the law of supply and demand as applied to talent. The indications are the law schools generally will be pretty well filled the coming session.

Hamilton Douglas, dean of the Atlanta Law school, says the schools, too, are doing their share, the Atlanta institution having furnished some fifteen or twenty young men to the two training camps. The Atlanta Law school opens for the new term on October 1, and the prospects are it will have a splendid attendance.

Have You Nystagmus? Take a Few Twirls in Famed Barany Chair

Do you suffer from nystagmus?

And is your balance all present and accounted for?

You will be given an opportunity to find out Friday week, when Major I. H. Jones, of the U. S. army aviation forces, appears at Taft hall in the first public demonstration in the south of the famous "Barany" chair, the startling device by which a man's nerves are tested, his sense of balance divined, and if he has nystagmus that, too, is revealed.

The "Barany" test is one of the most sensational innovations in army aviation. In a few seconds it determines if a man has the kind of nerves required to make a good birdman. The applicant is seated in the chair, given a few twirls, and the operator is immediately supplied with inside information on the applicant quite as abundant as though he had been reading the applicant's mail.

Major Jones will appear at Taft hall for the purpose of stimulating interest in the recruiting campaign to be launched in the southeast for aviators for the American air forces. His lecture will be supplemented by moving pictures showing aviators in training, and by a practical demonstration of an applicant for air service.

Thousands of aviators are to be recruited from the southeast, of which Atlanta is to be made the center of activities. Dr. Dunbar Roy and Dr. Howard Hall, who comprise the medical examining commission under the command of Captain H. H. Richards, are weekly examining sixty applicants.

S. J. SLATE APPOINTED GAME COMMISSIONER

Governor Dorsey Monday announced the appointment of Sam J. Slate, of Muskogee county, to the post of state fish and game commissioner, to succeed Hon. C. S. Arnow, who has held the post for the past two years.

Mr. Slate has been a resident of the state of Georgia for the past twenty years, coming here from his native state, Virginia, where he first took an interest in fish and game conservation. He has resided in Muscogee county for the past twelve years, and was formerly connected with the Corbitt Motor company.

Mr. Slate will assume his new duties October 1. During the interim Commissioner Arnow will have an audit made of his office, and will get things in shape for the new incumbent. Mr. Slate is a well-known and popular member of the T. P. A., is chairman of the Good Roads association and has always taken a deep interest in public utilities.

LITTLE LOCALS ABOUT THINGS OF CITY INTEREST

Detectives Powers, Starnes and Hollingsworth yesterday found seven gallons of whisky concealed under vegetables and watermelons in a wagon in an alley near 55 Windsor street. The man who was driving the wagon escaped and the rig was taken to police station to be confiscated.

Governor Dorsey announced last night that he will appoint the members of the new Georgia Defense Council in the course of one or two days. This body was provided for by a special act of the recent legislature.

With Councilman J. N. Renfroe on the bench instead of Recorder Johnson yesterday, violators of the law were given the very limit of the law. A number of "dopers" were given 30 days in the stockade without fine and bound over under heavy bond for vagrancy. Speeders, idlers and "flim-flam artists" were also dealt with severely.

The railroad commission filed demurrers in superior court Monday to the petition for injunction restraining them from compelling the Louisville and Nashville Railroad company to put in a spur track at Ball Ground, Ga. The railroad filed the petition for an injunction, contending that the railroad commission exceeded its authority in ordering the spur track to be constructed. The commission, in its demurrer, claims that it has authority to order a spur track built by the railroad and to enforce the order.

Delegations of citizens from a number of towns along the Seaboard railroad will appear before the Georgia railroad commission on September 12 to protest against petition of the Seaboard to take off certain trains and revise the schedule. The changes proposed in the road's schedule will practically revolutionize the service of the Seaboard, and citizens are up in arms against it. Among the trains asked to be taken off are some which the Seaboard has been trying for years to discontinue.

CHANCES ARE GREATLY IN FAVOR OF SOLDIERS SURVIVING GREAT WAR

They were in the uniforms of reserve officers and were chatting in the lobby of the Winecoff hotel. The subject drifted to casualties in the European war. One of the sojers produced a newspaper dispatch which reported that England's casualty list during August was more than 51,000 killed.

"That doesn't scare me one bit," remarked one of the sofers—a first lieutenant. "Here's something by Roger Babson that ought to interest you. Babson, you know, is probably the country's leading statistician.

"He says the American soldier has 38 chances out of 40 of surviving the great war, and that the death-risk is only three times as great as the average man meets at home. He says a heavy artilleryman is in no greater danger on the battlefields than is an engineer or a fireman on the railways of this country."

Betcha lots of sojers will breathe easier after reading this—what?

"I like to stray along a way September's lately traveled," writes Nancy Byrd Turner in her latest poetic outburst. Nancy should have been out Camp Gordon way during Sunday's rainstorm or mixed up in Monday's dust along Peachtree.

South to Be in Saddle At Conclusion of War, Say Northern Bankers

Frank Hawkins, president of the Third National bank, who has just returned from a business trip to New York, where he was in conference with bankers and others, found a widespread belief that the south will be in even better condition after the war than now, and will continue so for a long time.

"There are two somewhat widely varying opinions regarding the war," Mr. Hawkins said. "The prevailing belief is the war will go on for at least two years to come, largely on account of the Russian situation, and because, too, it will take up until next spring or summer to get our forces ready to strike a heavy blow.

"In the meantime, business and financial interests are considering possible conditions following the war. There are those who think recovery will be slow and business slack. They express the belief that European countries will hobble along and rebuild slowly. On the other hand, there is a strongly developed school of business thought along the line that recovery will be rapid, that rebuilding will go forward with a rush, and that there will be wide demand for men and materials at good prices.

"But the best part about it all is the general sentiment that the south will be in the saddle, no matter what turn is taken by business conditions generally after the war. I found almost universal expression to this effect among business and financial interests.

"It was pointed out that the world has got to have our cotton, our turpentine and naval stores, our lumber, our foodstuffs, in fact, everything we grow and make down here."

"OUR FIGHTING MEN"

William P. Duvall.

Major General William P. Duvall, who has been appointed to the command of the southern department of the army, is more than 70 years of age, and has been on the retired list since 1910. He is a native of Maryland and was graduated from West Point in 1869. During the war with Spain he served as an inspector general of volunteers and later as ordnance officer of the Second Army corps. From 1899 to 1901 he served with a volunteer regiment in the Philippines. In the summer of 1907 he went to Germany to witness the army maneuvers in that country, and in 1909 he was placed in command of the Philippines division, which post he held at the time of his retirement from active service a year later.

HEALTH TALKS

BY WILLIAM BRADY, M.D.

VEGETABLES FOR THE BABY.

The feeding of fresh green vegetables to young babies is advisable, as a rule, from the age of six or seven months. Green vegetables contain needed food-iron and other mineral elements, as well as vitamins.

A large proportion of the mineral content of vegetables is lost in the water in boiling. This includes phosphorus, iron, potassium, sodium; the only mineral element not appreciably lost in boiling is the calcium (lime). Steam cooking effects a distinct saving in the mineral content of vegetables. Especially is this true of steam-cooked spinach.

Such vegetables as carrots, spinach, onions, string beans, asparagus and potatoes, steam-cooked or boiled, and run through a grinder to pulverize or thoroughly mash into a smooth fine pulp, should be fed daily to babies after the seventh month. Or they may be rubbed through a fine sieve, as suggested by Holt, so that no undigestible lumps will be left. This is necessary until the child can chew the vegetables.

It is a mistake to keep babies on the bottle for long periods, to the exclusion of other and better foods than milk. It is in just such cases that the worst types of malnutrition are commonly seen. Some mothers keep babies on the bottle as long as two years, and that is a deplorable error.

Green vegetables furnish material useful for the growth of bone and other tissues, as well as for making good blood.

Fresh vegetables thus cooked and sieved may be fed to the baby from a spoon. At first only a teaspoonful or two should be given at a meal. After a month or more a tablespoonful or two may be given.

Such use of vegetables in the diet of babies is particularly essential when there is a tendency to rickets, and is actually curative in cases of scurvy. Both of these diseases are far too common among the babies of even the well-to-do class when a too rigid adherence to the ancient theory of milk feeding exclusively is the rule.

This sort of counsel will gladden the heart of many a grandma, but if you have noticed, scientific medicine is prone to return to grandma's methods in more than one field nowadays. We beg to add, however, that it is just as bad as ever for a baby to sit at the table and be subjected to feeding experiments by any and all who are inclined to give the little chap a taste of this, that and the other unsuitable food.

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS.

What to Eat for Constipation.

Please tell me what to eat for the relief of chronic constipation, and what not to eat. (M. V. P.)

ANSWER—Whole wheat dishes of all kinds, fresh fruit to begin breakfast each morning, plenty of water with meals or between meals as you prefer, raw cabbage (salads), turnips, beets, cucumbers, celery, greens, potatoes (with skins), lots of butter and other fats, berries with seeds, brown rice, corn dishes of all kinds, oatmeal, wheat bran. What not to eat is of little importance.

Bleeding Gums.

Please print a prescription for one who is troubled with the gums bleeding. The gums seem to be partly eaten away or shrunken from some cause. (T. J. W.)

ANSWER—The individual so affected should have his dentist put his teeth in the best possible condition and undergo a thorough physical examination by his physician. A remedy sometimes very helpful for bleeding gums is ipecac, used as a mouthwash on the toothbrush, and not immediately rinsed away. Ten drops of fluid extract of ipecac in an ounce of alcohol, and a few drops of this night and morning to brush teeth and gums.

Our Advertisements.

I have read some of your advertisements in the paper and I wonder if your remedy would help me. I weigh 180 pounds and am far too fleshy. Please send particulars of your Karell cure. (C. L.)

ANSWER—My dear madam, the Karell cure is not a medicine, but the name applied to the use of skimmed milk as an exclusive diet. For instance, sip very slowly six ounces (a glassful) of hot or cold skimmed milk at 8, 12, 4 and 8 o'clock, one, two or three days a week, consecutive or alternating, and no other food on Karell days. Buy fresh milk, let it stand in bowl till cream rises and skim off every bit of cream. There are various minor particulars which we will give if you care to supply a stamped self-addressed envelope. But if you ever call my contributions advertisements again I shall wax sarcastic.

Dr. Brady will answer all signed letters pertaining to health. The names of writers are never printed. Only inquiries of general interest are answered in this column; but all inquiries will be answered by mail if a stamped self-addressed envelope is enclosed. Requests for diagnosis or treatment of individual cases cannot be considered. Address Dr. William Brady, care of The Constitution.

FEW EXEMPTIONS GRANTED BY BOARD

Industrial Claims All Turned Down, While Majority of Farmers Are Allowed Extension of Time.

Of 86 claims and appeals to come before the north Georgia district exemption board at its Labor day session only 15 exemptions were granted, all of which were based upon grounds of dependency. The board granted a number of temporary discharges in agricultural claims and turned down a large number of men who claimed exemption on industrial grounds.

The board considered a number of claims from Divisions 3, 5 and 6 of Atlanta, and also from Floyd, Muscogee, Lumpkin and Heard counties. The only unusual case decided was that of Morris Smolensky, 271 East Fair street, who sought exemption on the ground that he is an alien. The board denied the exemption.

A ruling emphasized Monday by Provost Marshal General Crowder was to the effect that only in cases where the district board has original jurisdiction can appeals be made to the president. This ruling means that only cases filed on industrial and agricultural grounds can be appealed after they have been denied by the district board. In all other cases the local boards have original jurisdiction and the decision of the district board is final.

BOOSTING GOOD ROADS.

Route From Macon to Jacksonville to Be Improved.

Waycross, Ga., September 3.—(Special.)—Central Dixie highway boosters are not going to lose any time in enlarging the movement launched at the meeting held here last Friday to secure funds for improving the route through Pierce and Charlton counties. The local committee is going to meet this week to arrange for securing the assistance of highway boosters in all the principal points between Macon and Jacksonville. A report has been received from Jacksonville to the effect that the good roads enthusiasts are going to work on the Florida end and have the road brought up to standard without delay. Part of the route in Nassau county is anything but good and with it improved while the Georgia boosters are busy the fall rush for Florida will not find the highway impossible.

RAIL BOARD TO VISIT TWO GEORGIA CAMPS

A committee of members of the Georgia railroad commission appointed by Chairman Murphy Candler and composed of Colonel John Boifeuillet, Judge George Hillyer and J. A. Perry, will leave today for Macon to inspect transportation facilities between that city and Camp Wheeler. They will proceed Thursday to Augusta for the purpose of looking over the same situation in regard to that city and Camp Hancock.

Their visit is planned solely for the information of the commission and is not at the invitation of either Macon or Augusta.

HE PASSED BAR EXAMS AS STUDENT OFFICER

Olin Maynard Fuller is now second lieutenant in the ordnance department, stationed at Camp Green, Charlotte, N. C. He graduated from the Atlanta Law school in June. ATLANTA TO HONOR FIRST DRAFT MEN

Luncheon Will Be Given in Their Honor Today, and Big Parade Will Be Held Wednesday.

Today and tomorrow Atlanta will do honor to its first "men of war," the men who will go to Camp Gordon, representing the 5 per cent squads picked from the seven local divisions.

The Atlanta Rotary club will be hosts today at 1 o'clock to the 58 men who will represent Atlanta and Fulton county in the first contingent of 5 per cent to be sent to the national army camp at Camp Gordon, at a luncheon at the Piedmont hotel. These men will be composed of 44 Atlanta men and 14 residents of the county, and they are all extended invitations to be present at the luncheon.

Major General Eben Swift, commanding officer at Camp Gordon, together with his entire staff, will be present, and General Swift will make a short talk. Mayor Candler has also signified his intention to attend the luncheon, and he is slated for a short speech.

The principal address of the occasion will be delivered by Dr. Thomas M. Owen, director of the state department of archives and history of Alabama, who is here in the interest of the library war council work. Frank J. Resler, field agent of the library war council, will also be present. Immediately after the banquet, Willis M. Timmons, president of the Atlanta Rotary club, will, at the request of Dr. Owen, appoint a state director of this work for Georgia.

The drafted men will assemble promptly at 9 o'clock tomorrow morning at the various exemption boards headquarters, then go to the Grady monument, city hall, where they will mobilize for a big parade. They will then be taken to Camp Gordon in automobiles, secured through the efforts of the Ad men.

WILSON WILL MARCH WITH CONSCRIPTED MEN

Washington, September 3.—Rain or shine tomorrow, President Wilson, members of both houses of congress, high officials and diplomats and thousands of citizens, soldiers and sailors will march down Pennsylvania avenue from the capitol to the white house in honor of the District's first quota of men for the new national army.

As many of the drafted men as desired, and the number probably will run into thousands—also will march. They will be accorded a place near the president. Small banners will be used to designate the different sections, but the only flag to take the breeze as the scores of bands strike up their martial music and the great column moes forward, will be the one to which the soldiers have dedicated their lives, the Stars and Stripes.

The senate and house will adjourn early in order to participate. Some of the older men will be provided with carriages if they want them, but at least two house veterans, Speaker Clark and former Speaker Cannon, will walk with the boys who are off to war. After they had accepted invitations to participate in the parade, word was conveyed to them that they would be provided with carriages if they thought the walk would tax their strength too greatly. The speaker and his predecessor gave the committee to understand that, being only 67 and 81 years old, respectively, they were quite young enough to walk, or even jig a little if necessary.

The French and Mexican ambassadors and their wives have accepted invitations, and others from the diplomatic circle are expected to participate. There will be thousands of representatives of every walk of life, including regular soldiers, national guardsmen, sailors, members of officers' training camps and departmental officials and employees. Government departments will close and business throughout the city will be suspended during the parade.

The line of march will be over old ground to the president. Many times since war with Germany threatened he has gone over this route by motor in connection with some mission brought about by international difficulties, and once in the preparedness parade a year ago he walked over it. After marching to the white house the president will mount a reviewing stand and with members of the diplomatic corps as his guests, review the parade.

compel each county to rely absolutely on its own enterprise and interest and will reward it according to its exercise of these qualities."

The meeting was attended by a large representation from counties all along the eastern division of the Dixie highway and by hundreds of local people. The meeting was held in the auditorium of the Georgia Normal and Industrial college, and after the meeting an elaborate luncheon and entertainment was tendered jointly by the Milledgeville club, the Baldwin County club and the Milledgeville Automobile club and the ladies of the city. The meeting was presided over by Mayor Miller S. Bell, of Milledgeville.

Among the speakers were President M. M. Allison and Commissioners Anderson and Howell, of the Dixie Highway association; President M. M. Parks, of the Georgia Normal and Industrial college; Judge T. E. Patterson, president of the State Highway commission; Judge R. E. Davison, chairman of the state prison commisison; B. W. Hunt, of Eatonton; Vice President Wylie West, of the Georgia State Automobile association, and others.

A telegram was read from Commissioner of Roads and Revenues R. J. Freeman, of DeKalb county, pledging a good road for the Dixie highway through that county.

Large delegations were present from Eatonton, Louisville and other Dixie highway towns. Among those from Eatonton were Mayor J. R. Tweedy, Commissioners J. G. Spivey, W. H. Hearn and P. R. Garrard, of Putnam county; B. W. Hunt, F. P. Stubbs, P. W. Walton, J. R. Griffin, one of Putnam's most enthusiastic and faithful boosters of good roads; Mrs. Griffin, Miss Ethel Pinkerton and others. From Louisville came Mayor R. L. Bethea, J. R. Phillips, William Hudson, W. R. Sinquefield, Frank Hardeman, J. A. Cheatham and Superintendent of Construction Crook, of Jefferson county.

Dixie Rover Returns From Highway Hike Over Roughest Roads

Constitution-Studebaker Veteran Scout Car Finds Roads Bad, But Makes a Fine Run on Return Trip of Official Tour.

BY NED M'INTOSH
(Special Staff Correspondent.)

The Constitution-Studebaker "Dixie Rover," veteran of more good roads boosting trips than any other car in the south, acted as The Constitution's press car at the Milledgeville Dixie highway meeting and escorted the Dixie highway officials from Milledgeville to Atlanta on the last leg of their tour of inspection.

The "Dixie Rover" covered two divisions of the Dixie highway on the Milledgeville trip—the central division from Atlanta to Macon and the eastern division from Milledgeville to Atlanta. Battling rain and mud on both routes, and especially bad road conditions between Atlanta and Macon, "The Rover" covered the 270 miles in great shape and in fast time.

"The Dixie Rover" found the condition of the road from Atlanta to Macon worse than it has been at any time since last winter. The only county between Fulton and Bibb which has its roads in anything like fair condition is Pike, though Henry county has a scraper started over its section, which should put it in fair condition before long.

Due to heavy rains, "The Dixie Rover" was routed over the "lower road" between Macon and Milledgeville. Don't ever try it, no matter what the weather conditions are. The bridges are bad and there are ruts hub-deep on the longest hills. The road is red clay and, if at all wet, offers a fine opportunity for spending the night on the road. The "upper road," via Grays, should be taken.

From Milledgeville to Atlanta the road is in surprisingly good condition all the way, with the exception of a stretch in Newton county, which is being rebuilt.

"The Dixie Rover," famous through its week-end runs out of Atlanta this summer, was the center of much interest among motorists and road boosters at the Milledgeville meeting.

Alice Brady, Film Star, Will Appear in Person At Grand Theater Today

Alice Brady, the beautiful star of World Film Corporation pictures, who has won thousands of friends in Atlanta through her appearance upon the screen at Loew's Grand theater, will meet her Atlanta friends in person at Loew's Grand theater tonight.

Miss Brady had planned to spend all of Tuesday in Atlanta and appear at the matinee performances, but, due to the necessity for her closing the details of a big new contract, she was unable to leave New York Monday in time to reach Atlanta for Tuesday's matinee.

She will, however, arrive in Atlanta at 5 o'clock this afternoon and will appear three times at the night performances Tuesday night. There are but two vaudeville performances at night, but because she was unable to appear at the matinee, Miss Brady consented to appear three times at night.

She will appear upon the stage at 7 o'clock at the close of the first night performance of vaudeville, and again at 9 o'clock, just before the second vaudeville performance of the evening goe on, and the last time at 10 o'clock at the close of the last performance.

An interesting feature of Miss Brady's appearance in person is that the Grand has been able to obtain her newest and, perhaps, greatest picture success for showing while she is here. This picture is her great historical photo-drama, "Betsy Ross," telling graphically and faithfully to the period the story of the birth of the American flag, with Miss Brady in the title role. Picture critics have pronounced this Miss Brady's greatest piece of work.

QUARREL IN CHURCH ENDS IN FATALITY

Decatur, Ga., September 3.—(Special.) When Jess Turner, a negro, tried to act as a peacemaker in a quarrel Sunday night, Henry Bostwick, it is said, borrowed a knife from his brother and cut Turner's throat, Turner dying a few minutes later.

The two Bostwick negroes became involved in a row in the negro Sanctified church, in Decatur Sunday night. They left the church to settle their row, and as the two stood fussing in front of the church, Turner interposed, advising them to leave the vicinity of the church before they "got into a fight." The Bostwick negroes resented the attempt of Turner, and Henry turned to his brother with the request that he lend Henry his knife. Henry secured the knife, it is said by witnesses, and slashed Turner across the throat, cutting the jugler vein.

BROTHER SHOT BROTHER IN QUARREL OVER NEGRO

Fatal Shooting Is Alleged to Have Been the Result of Small Quarrel.

Concord, Ga., September 3.—(Special) Because he had trouble with his brother over a negro farm hand, Tom Irwin this morning shot and killed his brother, Clarence, at the door of their mother's home in Hollonville, near here.

Bad feeling is alleged to have existed for some time over the administration of the father's estate. This, it is said, was aggravated by a quarrel over a negro farm employee. Tom Irwin drove to the old family home this morning and emptied a shotgun into the body of his brother as he stood in the doorway. Tom Irwin is married. There was no witness to the shooting.

MACON MAY GET JUVENILE COURT

Macon, Ga., September 3.—(Special.) Attorney Ellsworth Hall will appear before the board of county commissioners tomorrow and ask for an appropriation for a juvenile court in this county. The establishment of the court has been recommended by two successive grand juries, as provided by law, and all that remains to put the court in operation is to secure the appropriation. Judge Mathews, of the superior court, will appoint the new judge. There are a score or more of applications for the place. The court is said to be badly needed here.

3 RAILROADS ASK PERMISSION TO RUN FREIGHTS ON SUNDAY

Petitions from the Southern, the Gainesville Midland and the Georgia, Florida and Alabama railroads were yesterday filed with the Georgia railroad commission, asking authority to disregard those sections of the state penal code prohibiting the operation of freight trains on Sunday during the exigencies of the war.

It is understood that a concerted action on the part of railroads in the state will be made in this matter and that petitions from other roads will be filed in the near future. The commission has set for a hearing of the petitions September 11 at 10 o'clock in the morning.

The commission has also decided to hear the petition filed by residents along West Peachtree street in regard to better street car service on the same day at 3 o'clock in the afternoon. Residents of this section are asking that the West Peachtree cars now stopping at Sixth street, be extended to Brookwood and do a local business on their return trip to town. This, they assert, will enable the Buckhead cars to handle the Camp Gordon traffic by running express to the city, while the West Peachtree cars can take care of the citizen traffic near town.

CHATTANOOGA FACES STREET CAR STRIKE

Trolley Company Refuses to Have Any Dealings With Union.

Chattanooga, Tenn., September 3.—A meeting of the operatives of the Chattanooga Railway ond Light company is being held to decide on what action will be taken in reply to notices sent out by the company early today that the men must report to the superintendent of transportation whether or not they would treat with the railway company as individuals or abandon their jobs, the union being no longer recognized. Indications tonight are that the operatives will refuse to comply with the demands of the company and force a virtual lockout. Should this action be taken efforts will be made to prevent operation of the cars by strike-breakers, according to statements accredited to leaders of the men.

Decision of the men will not be known until morning, as the night men meet at 1:30 o'clock tonight.

Late reports tonight are to the effect that an hour will be fixed before adjournment of the street car employees when the men will leave their cars tomorrow.

Leonard Stops Rector.

Toronto, September 3.—Bennie Leonard, world's lightweight champion, stopped Young Rector, of Jersey City, in the fifth round of a six-round match here today. Leonard overwhelmed his opponent with his speed and skill, raining punches on him from all angles. In the fifth round, after Rector had been forced to his knees for a second time, his seconds threw in the sponge.

SYRUP OF FIGS FOR CROSS, SICK FEVERISH CHILD

If little stomach is sour, liver torpid or bowels clogged.

Mothers can rest easy after giving "California Syrup of Figs," because in a few hours all the clogged-up waste, sour bile and fermenting food gently moves out of the bowels, and you have a well, playful child again. Children simply will not take the time from play to empty their bowels, and they become tightly packed, liver is sluggish and stomach disordered. When cross, feverish, restless, see if tongue is coated, then give this delicious "fruit laxative." Children love it, and it can not cause injury. No difference what ails your little one—if full of cold, or a sore throat, diarrhoea, stomachache, bad breath, remember, a gentle "inside cleansing" should always be the first treatment given. Full directions for babies, children of all ages and grown-ups are printed on each bottle.

Beware of counterfeit fig syrups. Ask your druggist for a 50-cent bottle of "California Syrup of Figs," then look carefully and see that it is made by the "California Fig Syrup Company." We make no smaller size. Hand back with contempt any other fig syrup.—(adv.)

SOCIETY

Brilliant Entertainment Given For General Swift and Staff

Noteworthy among the brilliant episodes in the history of the Capital City club, which has entertained distinguished visitors in Atlanta for more than a generation, was the dinner-dance at the Country club last night in honor of Major General Eben Swift, commander of the Eighty-second division of the national army at Camp Gordon, with his staff and their wives.

A company of three hundred and fifty enjoyed the occasion, which was one of social brilliance and picturesque elaboration.

Dinner was served in the huge ball room, open on all sides to invite the beauty and coolness of the moonlight night. A wealth of bunting in the national colors and a lavish use of red, white and blue electric lights as part of the decorative scheme, with palms and flags, made handsome setting, and the large tables at which the distinguished army people were guests of officers of the club and their wives, had special decoration in late summer flowers and souvenirs of military suggestion.

During dinner there were cabaret features, including the newest ball room dances by Mr. Lane and his partner, songs by Miss Spiro and dances by Mlle. Unoe.

Trench Candle Depot Centrally Located.

In looking about for a place to locate the "Trench Candle Depot," Mrs. Werner S. Byck and her committee very fortunately mentioned to Miss Theresa Zahn, their troubles in finding a central location for the endless number of Atlantans to conveniently leave the little trench candles that they are making with so much enthusiasm. With that unselfishness that is prompting patriots to do big things these days without counting the cost, Miss Zahn offered Mrs. Byck the use of her rooms on the second floor of the Connally building as a depot for receiving trench candles, Miss Zahn vacating the rooms.

Now all the grown-ups, children, young boys and girls will have to do will be to stop by the depot and leave the little candles made of newspaper and dipped in melted paraffin that will soon be in use by our soldiers in France in lighting their trenches and cooking their food. Mrs. Byck will personally superintend that dipping of candles and asks that only the candles be made and delivered at the depot.

The information of how the trench candles must be made, call Ivy 5720 or call at the office of the Woman's League for Service, 172½ Peachtree street.

A Mother's Guidance

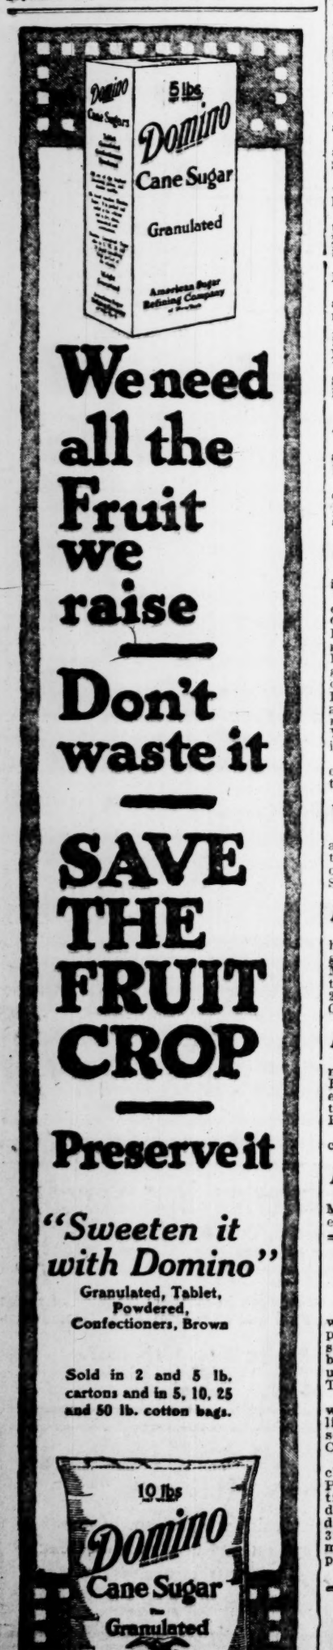

The mother who advises her daughter to use "Mother's Friend" can rest assured that the crisis will be one of much less pain and danger.

"Mother's Friend" is a safe, external application for the abdominal muscles and breasts. It certainly has a wonderful influence in relieving pain, discomfort and nausea, and is a most grateful encouragement to the young woman awaiting the happiness of coming motherhood. The action of "Mother's Friend" makes the muscles free, pliant and responsive to expansion. Thus tension and strain upon the muscles and ligaments is avoided when baby arrives.

Nervousness and twitching spells and that constant strain known to so many women is avoided. "Mother's Friend" is the prescription of a famous physician and may be had at the drug store. It will surely prove of the greatest value, not only to the mother, but to the health and future of the child.

Write to the Bradfield Regulator Co., Dept. C, 46 Lamar Building, Atlanta, Ga., for their book, "Motherhood and the Baby". It is free and is a book which every woman should have. Every expectant mother should aid nature for by so doing pain at the crisis is avoided.

CONSUME LESS SUGAR, URGES HERBERT HOOVER

Washington, September 3.—Reduced consumption of sugar was asked of the American people today by the food administration that a threatened shortage in the allied countries may be averted. Lack of ships to move the Cuban and Hawaiian crops promptly, it is declared, makes it necessary that this country share its sugar supply with Europe.

"The conservation asked of the American people," the administration's statement says, "does not necessarily demand great sacrifices. It only needs the elimination of waste and the careful use of sugar to enable America to make up the difference required by the needs of the allies.

"It is not actually a lack of sugar that emphasized the need for its conservation in the United States so much as it is inability to get the sugar to the places where needed. The world's shortage is comparatively small and is confined to Europe. With the stocks on hand in this country and in Cuba and those now coming from Hawaii it would appear that with proper management and with speculation and hoarding eliminated, there need be no scarcity, even in the immediate future, while awaiting the new crop.

"The lack of adequate facilities to reach the sources of supply, and the imperative demand for the needs of our allies, constitutes the sugar problem of the United States."

The world's sugar supply is estimated this year at 18,659,792 tons, against an average production of 18,712,997. American consumption for the first half of the present year was slightly larger than last year, which the food administration attributes to hoarding within the household.

The Cuban crop this year was up to normal, as were the Hawaiian, Philippine and Java yields. These supplies, gallons, an increase of 26,000,000 gallons, because of the absence of ships. Both the American cane and beet crops will be larger than normal.

DUTCH LABOR OBJECTS TO U. S. FOOD EMBARGO

Amsterdam, Sunday, September 2.—Representing 150,000 workers, a trades union congress that met here today discussed food problems in connection with the stoppage of imports from America and the unfavorable outlook for the home crops, which have been greatly damaged by the continuous rainstorms. The meeting adopted a resolution calling upon the government to reduce the maximum prices on food, fuel and shoe leather, and to take various other measures to prevent misery and want among the working classes during the coming winter.

One speaker at the conference, representing the Rotterdam dock workers, advocated a stiffer attitude by labor toward the Dutch government. He said the entente would not permit Belgium to starve, America would have to send grain for that purpose, and would not insist on Holland herself remaining without grain while she was handling the Belgian supplies.

Chairman Oudegeest remarked that it was useless to appeal for the assistance of the American labor organizations, because, he said, "the American government is not well disposed toward us, and the American organization will not obstruct its government." In this connection it may be noted that The Nieug Van Den Dag indulges in sarcastic comment on "America unrightfully withholding food from the Dutch people notwithstanding she claims to be fighting for right and democracy."

The newspaper adds that Belgian refugees and escaped prisoners of war are welcome to share the meager bread ration of the Dutch people, but that it is unreasonable to expect Holland to feed the thousands of other strangers within her borders, and that Holland ought to refuse to handle Belgian relief goods unless, for instance, for every shipment to Belgium an equal quantity be permitted to remain in Holland.

COUNTIES ESCAPE DRAFT.

Two Florida Counties Send Volunteers.

Tallahassee, Fla., September 3.—(Special.)—Two Florida counties, Osceola and Franklin, will not have to send a single drafted man into the first army drawn to carry the Stars and Stripes to the battle fronts of Europe.

This condition is brought about by the patriotism among the young men from those counties, who, feeling that the draft was unnecessary, voluntarily enlisted in the various parts of the service in numbers greater than the allotment for their counties.

MOVEMENT OF COTTON BLOCKED BY A STRIKE

New Orleans, September 3.—Conferences late today and tonight between officials of the Cotton Exchange and boss draymen brought no agreement regarding the demands of teamsters and loaders for wage increases of approximately 40 per cent. Union teamsters and loaders, numbering about 200, members of a negro organization, went on strike Saturday morning, the draymen refusing to meet their wage demands on the grounds that the increases asked were unreasonable.

The draymen would not state tonight whether they intended to use non-union workers in place of the strikers tomorrow. Shippers expressed fear that should such action be taken the union longshoremen and screwmen, who handle the cotton after it leaves the drays, would also quit. Practically no cotton has been moved since Friday.

Stevedores, employers of longshoremen and screwmen, tonight said they expected their men to be on hand as usual tomorrow.

The dock and cotton council meeting scheduled for tonight was not held.

U. S. WANTS REGIMENT OF NEGRO STEVEDORES

Washington, September 3.—A regiment of 2,400 negro stevedores for foreign service has been authorized by the war department to meet the demand for experienced men to handle war supplies of the expeditionary army force in France. Recruiting officers, especially those in southern seaport cities, have been instructed to seek men for the regiment. An effort is being made to get exemption from draft for negroes of draft age who would prefer hard work behind the lines to duty in the trenches. The army also wants negro cooks and will give good pay to even inexperienced men if they have capacity and are willing to learn.

SIX NEGRO SOLDIERS SENTENCED TO PRISON

San Antonio, Texas, September 3.—Six negro soldiers of the Twenty-fourth United States infantry, who clashed with the civil police and the troops sent to subdue them at Waco the night of July 29, were found guilty of violation of the ninety-third article of war before the general court-martial held recently at Camp MacArthur, Waco, it was announced today.

GUARD ORGANIZATIONS FAST CONCENTRATING

Macon, Ga., September 3.—(Special.) Within the next few hours several hundred national guardsmen will arrive in Macon from Alabama and Florida to enter Camp Wheeler. The first arrivals will include two companies from Alabama, two from Florida and the field hospital corps.

Camp Wheeler is now in shape for the reception of the troops and before the end of the week the entire national guard organizations of Georgia, Alabama and Florida will be encamped there. Water from the emergency supply was turned on yesterday and this will give the camp 1,500,000 gallons of water and will be sufficient for 10,000 troops. The permanent supply will be ready within a few weeks, the work of laying the mains from the city being rushed with all possible speed, though there has been some delay due to the failure of pipe to arrive on time.

Two hundred reserve officers who arrived in Macon a few days ago from Columbia, S. C., and who have since been quartered at the Hotel Dempsey while they were getting acquainted with the city, reported to General Kernan at Camp Wheeler today and were assigned. Most of them were assigned to fill vacancies in the military organizations of the three state guards to be encamped here. Some of the officers were ordered to report for duty tonight, while others will not have to begin their duties until Wednesday.

GREAT SPECTACLE DRAWS BIG CROWDS TO THE CRITERION

Did you ever read about people in a story book and wish you could see and talk with them? In the days, maybe long ago, when you read "Jack and the Beanstalk," did you ever feel the desire to fall asleep and dream of the exploits of the wonderful lad of the story who climbed the beanstalk, killed the great giant and rescued the beautiful princess?

That thousands in Atlanta have had this wish was made certain Monday when they packed the Criterion theater and had the pleasure of seeing Jack, and all the other marvelous characters step out of the book, as it were, and people the screen. It pleased the children immensely and it made others—older folks, "kiddies" for the time.

Everybody knows the story, which has been handed down from the earliest days of the English-speaking peoples as a heritage of delight to the little ones of modern times. It is filmed for children, by children, and is released by the Fox Film corporation as the first of the regular monthly "Fox Kiddie Features."

Children play most of the roles, except, of course, the giant; they make up the royal court and the army, and they tell their story in eight reels of wonderful and fascinating pictures to all the world of childhood, and to all who love them. The clever and sumptuous handling of the immortal story, half forget, gives it an appeal that is universal.

The story lends itself wonderfully to pictures. It has an introductory modern setting that gives it reality to the mind of those of all ages and then it fades back to the time of doublet and hose and the beanstalk that leads to the land of fairy-tales and the devouring giant.

POLK COUNTY CITIZENS HONOR DRAFTED MEN

Rockmart, Ga., September 3.—(Special.)—What is considered to be the largest gathering ever held in Polk county is scheduled to assemble Thursday in honor of the men of the county who have been conscripted and ordered to report to Camp Gordon in the first increment of the national draft. The entire town will turn out in their honor, and already flags and pieces of bunting are making their appearance in the business sections.

"WORTH THOUSANDS OF DOLLARS TO FEEL LIKE I DO," HE SAYS

After Twenty Years' Suffering He Finds Relief at Last by Taking Tanlac. Gains Eleven Pounds in Weight.

"It's worth thousands of dollars to feel like I do now, since Tanlac has taken away the trouble that kept me in misery for the last twenty years," said M. B. Daniel, a well-known farmer living on route No. 2 out of Abbeville, Georgia, a few days ago.

"Whenever a man suffers as long as I did, he gets to the place where he feels like he's no more good in this world," he continued, "and that's just the way I had begun to feel. Long ago I got so weak I couldn't carry on my work, for spells of stomach trouble and nervousness just made it torture for me to try to eat and the trouble I had, wouldn't let me sleep at all. Many a night I have sat up until morning, so shaky and nervous I couldn't even doze off. My heart would flutter and act queer until I was afraid it would stop and I got so blue and discouraged I felt like I didn't much care if it did.

"I'd been well-enough satisfied just to have my sufferings relieved, but that's not all Tanlac has done for me—I have gained eleven pounds in weight—since I started taking it. I can eat as hearty a meal as if I had never had stomach trouble at all and my strength has come back so I can do as much work in a day as I ever could before I took sick. I just feel like a new man all over and will be glad to tell anybody who wants to know, if they will write me, just what this wonderful medicine, Tanlac, did for me."

Tanlac is sold in Atlanta exclusively by Jacobs' Pharmacy.—(adv.)

GRANDMOTHER'S BOTANIC MEDICINE

In every pioneer home the botanic recipes of our grandmothers for the treatment of disease were wonderfully dependable. Every fall she gathered her various herbs: thoroughwort, camomile, sage, pennyroyal, wormwood, rue, etc. It is interesting to note that Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, the most successful remedy for female ills we have, was originally prepared for home use from one of these botanic recipes, and the demand for this famous medicine has grown until over 350,000 pounds of roots and herbs are used annually in its preparation. It will well repay any woman who suffers from female ills to give this famous medicine a trial.—(adv.)

GULLS BREAK LOSING STREAK

Gulls Break Losing Streak By Winning the Opener; Crackers Cop the Second

LADIES' DAY TODAY.
Today's game between the Gulls and Crackers will also be ladies' day and the fair fans of the city will be admitted free.

By Dick Jemison.

After losing twenty straight ball games, the Mobile Gulls had to break their losing streak at the expense of the Crackers by winning the first game of the double-header in ten innings, 3 to 2, but they lost the second 4 to 2.

The Gulls have always been hard meat for the Crackers to chew, and Monday's great crowd saw them fight the Crackers to a standstill in the opening session and have the locals wild-heave the game to them.

But the let-down of the Crackers was natural after the strain they have been under in Birmingham and New Orleans. We were really glad to see it, and they'll be outbatting the Gulls again this afternoon and will be all primed for the Pelicans when they come here on Thursday, Friday and Saturday.

The Crackers played bad baseball only in spots. But those spots were sufficient for the Gulls to win that opening game. They took advantage of the Crackers' miscues promptly.

Twilight League.

The Crackers have joined the twilight league. If a game would get through now before it was so dark you could hardly see your hand before your face, we'd hardly know how to act.

It started with the third game in Birmingham on the trip. It was dark—pitch-black dark—when we got back to the hotel on that night, and it was the same way all the other games of the trip.

Returning home, we play a double-header and when Charley Moran called the game on account of darkness in the fifth inning, you could just see the outfielders. Thrasher's double in the fifth inning was not discovered until the ball stirred up the dust in left field. Then Meyers went after it.

As "Scrappy" Moore says, "It's a great game if you don't weaken, but if you weaken, they've got you down."

Speaking of Scrappy, he got into the game at first base, due to an injury to Jake Munch, who was hit in the stomach by a pitched ball in New Orleans, and was feeling the effects of it keenly. He stuck gamely to his post in the first game, but had to be relieved. Perkins, on instructions from the bench, went to Jake and asked him how he felt, and in the next inning, when he got on base, Frank sent in a runner for him. It was Moore and Scrappy who played first the rest of the day.

First Game.

The Crackers presented the Gulls with the first game, 3 to 2, in ten innings, errors accounting for each of the visitors' tallies, while the locals earned both of their tallies.

Fulton worked a nice game for the Gulls, and, although nicked for ten hits, kept the Crackers at bay when hits would have done them the most good.

Day started for the Crackers and was yanked for a pinch hitter, Fullenweider finishing the game and being charged with the defeat.

Timeon Bowden, ex-Cracker, had a field day, scoring the Gulls' first and last runs, and having nine chances in the outfield, some of them splendid chances.

McDonald and Gondolfi, rival third-sackers, made great plays at the hot corner. These were all the real features of the game.

The Gulls scored one in the opener. Reilly fumbled Bowden's grounder, Gondolfi sacrificed him to second, he stole third and tallied on the squeeze play with Meyers at the bat.

They got another in the third. Fulton singled. Bowden and Meyers beat out bunts, filling the bases. Fulton scored on O'Mara's error on Lunte's grounder.

O'Mara's double, an infield out and McDonald's single gave the Crackers one in the fourth.

Singles by Picinich and Bressler, the latter hitting for Day, and Reilly's sacrifice fly, tied it in the seventh.

The Gulls tallied the winning run in the tenth inning. Bowden drove a hit through Moore, was sacrificed to second by Gondolfi, went to third on Meyer's fly-out and tallied when Mayer threw the ball over McDonald's head.

Second Game.

The Crackers won the second game 4 to 2, a bob-tailed five-inning game, which was called on account of darkness.

Hess was pitted against Long, and the local southpaw had all the better of the argument, though the Gulls sprang a rally in the fifth which netted two runs.

There were few features, the two teams just playing the ball game out because forced to do so.

Scrappy Moore went to first base in Munch's place, Jake suffering from a blow in the stomach in the final game in New Orleans.

A base on balls, a force out, two singles and a fielder's choice gave the Crackers three in the third.

Two singles, an error and a double gave the Gulls two in the fifth.

A single, a sacrifice and a double gave the Crackers one in the fifth.

MORRIS MOBBED BY FIGHT FANS

Butted Fred Fulton and Is Disqualified—Fans Get Incensed and Attack Oklahoma Giant.

Canton, September 3.—What was to have been a 15-round boxing bout here today between Carl Morris, of Oklahoma, and Fred Fulton, of Minneapolis, was terminated in the sixth round by Matt Hinkei, referee, who claimed Morris had deliberately fouled Fulton a number of times. The contest was to have decided which of the two was better qualified to meet Jess Willard in a heavyweight championship contest.

Morris, according to sport writers, was outclassed and apparently was destined to become the recipient of a hard mauling. After the first round he butted, hit low and hit in the breaks, refusing to heed the warning of the referee. In the first round he plowed into Fulton with reckless abandon and found the latter a willing party in the gruelling mixing. In the fifth and sixth rounds Morris was jeered by the crowd after Referee Hinkel had warned him repeatedly.

As he left the ring, Morris swung at a jeering spectator. Police quickly intervened.

Brooklyn, September 3.—Grover Alexander performed the iron-man feat by pitching both games of today's double-header and winning them, 5 to 0 and 9 to 3. He held the Brooklyns to four scattered hits in the first game, which was played in the season's record time at Ebbetts field of 77 minutes. He was hit more freely in the second game, but the hard and consistent hitting of the Phillies, which also featured the opening encounter, kept him safe. He gave only one base on balls in the two games. Whitted made five hits, including a triple and a double, in eight times at bat.

In the next inning the visitors sent over two runs, which won the game.

Goodwin shut out Chicago in the second game, not a visitor getting beyond second base. A foul tip off Hornsby's bat split Elliott's thumb in the first game and he was forced to retire.

Crackers File Written Protest on Series Plans

By Dick Jemison.

The Crackers have filed a written protest with President R. H. Baugh, of the Southern league, over the playing of the post-season series under the plans as outlined. They have mailed a copy of the communication to each of the captains of the other Southern league club.

The following is the protest:

"B. H. Baugh, President, Southern League, Birmingham, Ala.: We, the undersigned members of the Atlanta ball club, have carefully read the plans outlined for the post-season series, and all players of the Atlanta club take exception to the plans adopted.

"Should our club finish second, none of the players selected will care to play in the series under the present plans. Should we finish first, the entire club does not care to play the series as outlined.

"We cannot understand why the members of the contesting clubs should not receive all of the net proceeds of all games played, excepting, say, 20 per cent, to go into the league fund.

"We also take exception to the schedule as adopted, feeling that a better financial schedule could be made up.

"Therefore, unless the matter of division of the proceeds is revised to the basis of 80 per cent to the players and 20 per cent to the league, the players ask to be excused from taking part in the post-season series.

"(Signed) Tom Reilly, Sam Mayer, Roy Moran, Frank Thrasher, Charlie McDonald, Ollie O'Mara, Jake Munch, Val Picinich, Cy Perkins, Otto Hess, Phifer Fullenweider, Ray Bressler, Ad Brennan, William Moore, Virgil Day."

Philadelphia, September 3. — Philadelphia hit Washington's pitchers hard and won both games today, 7 to 4 and 9 to 2. The largest crowd that has been at Shibe park in three seasons saw the double-header. Joe Bush, who was reinstated today by Manager Mack, after being suspended for nearly two weeks, was taken out after pitching three innings of the first game, because of wildness.

Walter Johnson was knocked off the rubber in the third inning of the second game. While R. Johnson was very effective for the home team.

Shortstop Dugan had his right ankle badly sprained in sliding home in the first game.

Chicago, September 3.—Eddie Murphy's pinch hitting today enabled Chicago to take both games of the double-header from Detroit, 7 to 5 and 14 to 8, and thereby gaining two games on Boston, which dropped two games to New York. Chicago now is leading Boston by six and a half games. Detroit took a lead over Chicago in the fifth inning of the morning game by bunching hits and driving Faber off the mound, but Danforth and Williams checked the visitors after that. Ehmke weakened in the sixth inning and walked two men. Schalk advanced both on a sacrifice. Murphy then singled to center and Chicago took the lead when two runs were scored on the hit. A base on balls and Schalk's triple cinched the game in the eighth.

The visitors took the lead on the locals in the second game by bunching hits behind bases on balls in the second and third innings, but Murphy's single with men on second and third enabled Chicago to tie the count. Schalk's home run which came in the next inning with two men on the bases put Chicago in the lead and they never were headed thereafter.

The afternoon game was won by New York in the first inning, after two were out, on singles by Peckinpaugh, Gedeon and Baker, and doubles by Pipp and Hendrix. Leonard was relieved by Pennock after Hendrix had hit safely, and pitched a wonderful game, allowing only two men to reach first base, one on a base on balls and another by hitting a man with a pitched ball. Boston could not connect safely with Fisher, although hitting the ball hard.

AT RECORD SPEED CHEVROLET WINNER

Chicago, September 3.—The winner of the first two events at 20 and 50 miles, Ralph DePalma, the Italian driver, lost the 100-mile event, the big race of the Grand American championship program at Speedway Park today, because he was forced to stop for a change of tires in the 68th mile. The race went to Louis Chevrolet, who covered the distance in 56:29:05. Dave Lewis finished second, and DePalma third.

DePalma won the first two races, after thrilling drives, with Gaston Chevrolet, a brother of Louis, and Dave Lewis, Gaston Chevrolet finished second in the 20-mile and Lewis second in the 50. The Italian broke the track record in both events. He negotiated the 20 miles in 11:02:07 and the 50 miles in 28:09. He averaged 108 miles an hour in the first dash.

The car driven by Louis Chevrolet was forced out of the race in the eighth mile of the first event by a broken connecting road. It was his brother's car that he drove to victory in the 100-mile race. DePalma showed the way to the Frenchman until the 68th mile, when he was driven into the pits by tire trouble.

Although off the track only nineteen seconds, it was enough to give Chevrolet a lead which he retained.

The spectators were given a thrill near the end of the race when Tom Alley, roaring down the stretch in front of the grand stand, threw a rear wheel. The car skidded towards the stands and then Alley quickly straightened it and held it to the track.

The victories in the first two events were the first DePalma ever won at the local speedway, although he has competed in nearly every race. The day was ideal for racing, but the crowd was small, only a few thousand turning out.

NELSON VS. SHAUGHNESSY AT THE COLUMBIA FRIDAY

All details for the ten-round bout between Terry Nelson and Pete Shaughnessy for Friday night were closed by Matchmaker Mike Saul yesterday. The pair will clash for the second time, their previous bout being a slashing affair, Terry winning in seven rounds.

Pete, however, declared that he was not at his best in that encounter, so Mike decided that it was best to send the pair into the ring again. The winner of this go will get some good bouts here, while the loser will be out of the running as a star ringman.

Besides the main event there will be two four-round scraps, making eighteen rounds of boxing in all. Mike Saul will be the third man in the ring.

Coffey Bests Madden.

New York, September 3.—Jim Coffey, the Irish heavyweight, outfought Artley Madden, of New York, in a ten-round bout here tonight. Coffey was the aggressor throughout, Madden's footwork enabling him to evade Coffey's best blows. Coffey weighed 203 pounds and Madden 180.

PEL PREXY SHOWN UP BY CRACKERS

Accused Crackers of Looking for Alibi and Predicted Crackers' Downfall — Series' Result Shows Him Up.

By Dick Jemison.

In an issue of The New Orleans Times-Picayune in advance of the series with the Crackers, Jules Heinemann, president of the New Orleans club, said in part:

"Talk about your tommy-rot, why no one knows better than Charley Frank just why he is raising all this rumpus. Feels himself slipping and wants an alibi—just like a fighter who's getting walloped and fouls as a last resort.

"Oh, but it is great to hear him crying for mercy—that's all he's doing, after all. He knows well enough that if a game was left out in Nashville, it's Nashville's fault, not ours. If we cared to employ Frank's tactics, we'd immediately lay claim to this game by forfeit, 9 to 0, and tack it on our standing.

"We don't need it, however. We'll add a few victories to our standing when Frank and his tribe come here Friday."

He Needs It, and More.

The result of the series showed that the Pelicans needed that Nashville game by forfeit, could they have gotten it that way, and more, too. As to the crying for mercy and the threats of what they were going to do to us down there, we'll let the result of the series speak for itself.

Talk about quitting, looking for alibis and yellow. The Pels were ridden out of their own ball park. If a team came to Atlanta and did the Crackers like the Crackers did the Pels on their own dunghill, we'd run the Crackers and Charley Frank out of town.

The riding the Pels got cannot be described. They met a better baseball club, mechanically, mentally and physically, with better hitting, better fielding and better pitching, and more nerve.

It's the first time in the history that any team has ever beaten the Pels three straight ball games in New Orleans. Call for Mr. Heinemann, we'd like to interview him.

CIVIL WAR PRICES ON SEA ISLAND COTTON ALMOST REACHED

Valdosta, Ga., September 3.—(Special.)—The Sea Island cotton market opened yesterday with No. 1 cotton selling at 70c a pound. This is the highest price on the local market in fifty years, or the year after the close of the civil war, when Sea Island cotton went to more than $1 a pound.

The receipts yesterday were about 50 bales. These figures are expected to be rapidly increased from now on, as the crop is opening rapidly and will practically all be harvested within thirty days. The boll weevil has done enormous damage to the crop, destroying in some sections three-fourths of it, and in the most favored sections fully a half.

Good judges estimate that not more than one-third of a normal crop will be made in this and adjoining counties. There is a general expectation, however, that the price will go to a dollar a pound, and if it should do this early in the season, the farmers will realize more from one-third of a crop than they have in former years for bumper crops.

There have been seasons in the past when Sea Islands sold as low as 15c for the best grades. Short cotton has not been damaged as seriously by the boll weevil as has the Sea Island. The weevils' toll of the former will probably average one-third of the normal yield.

OUTLOOK IS BEARISH FOR THE ENTIRE LIST OF INDUSTRIAL STOCKS

Moore, Leonard & Lynch say: The success of the radical element in congress in increasing the war excess profits tax caused a wave of liquidation in the stock market that took in practically the entire industrial list. Still heavier taxes is the prospect, provided the war lasts.

The railroads alone held up well. Those companies that showed poor earnings in the pre-war period are hit the hardest, and the decline in these stocks was the natural result of the more drastic legislation planned. The prospects are, should the war last, still heavier taxes can be expected.

The purchase of stocks that are intrinsically cheap may not yield an immediate profit under present conditions.

With the enormous expenditures of the war to finance, there is not much prospect for an upward move in the near future.

ATLANTA'S TEACHERS START SCHOOL TODAY

Normal Classes Will Be Conducted Tuesday, Wednesday and Friday.

Atlanta's big colony of 800 or more teachers will begin going to school at 9 o'clock this morning in preparation for next Monday morning, at 8:30 o'clock, when the city schools, grammar and high, will open for the 1917-18 season.

Over 25,000 children are expected to be in attendance when the gongs ring the classes to order.

Normal classes for the white teachers in the grammar schools will be held Tuesday, Wednesday and Friday mornings at 9 o'clock at Browning hall, Girls' High school. Normal classes for negro teachers will be held the same mornings at the Houston Street school.

All high school faculties will meet at 9 o'clock Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday at their respective schools.

A general meeting of all the white teachers in the city's school system, both high and grammar, will be held at 11 o'clock Thursday morning, at Browning hall, at which time Superintendent J. C. Wardlaw will issue his "rules and regulations" to be followed by the teachers during the coming season.

On Friday morning, 8:30 o'clock, in all the city's schools, both high and grammar, white and negro, entrance and classification examinations will be held.

At 1 o'clock Wednesday at the Girls' High school, all white teachers will be paid their salaries by bank clerks, the city of Atlanta having had to borrow the money to pay salaries due to tax receipts running low at this time of years, as usual. At 2 o'clock Wednesday afternoon, Girls' High school, negro teachers will be paid off.

MRS. W. P. CHEVALIER IS INJURED BY AUTO

Mrs. W. P. Chevalier, of 340 Luckie street, was painfully injured yesterday morning at Broad and Mitchell streets, when she was struck by an automobile driven by Ed Tripp.

She had just stepped from behind a street car when Tripp first saw her, and, according to his statement, he turned the automobile into the street car in order to avoid a serious accident. The automobile was considerably damaged from its collision with the street car. Mrs. Chevalier's injuries are not of a serious nature.

U-Boat Sinks American Ship.

Washington, September 3.—The state department was advised today of the sinking August 23 of the American schooner Carl E. Cressy, of Bath, Maine, by a submarine. The schooner was attacked in stormy weather and shelled all night. The crew of seven was saved.

CANDIDATES MUST PAY RECORD TAX THIS YEAR

Andy R. King and Warren D. White Pay Fee in Ninth Ward Aldermanic Race.

The city political situation warmed up considerably yesterday when the assessments for entrance in the races to be decided in the city primary this fall were fixed and two candidates, Warren D. White and Andy R. King, formally entered the contest for alderman in the ninth ward by paying their fees.

Announcement was also made that Saturday, September 22, at noon will be the latest on which candidates would be allowed to pay assessments.

Candidates for aldermen in the primary of October 17 will pay $125 entrance fee, councilmanic candidates will pay $100 and candidates for manager of the waterworks $200.

These are the highest fees ever paid in a primary election and were decided upon by the subcommittee of the city executive committee at a meeting in the store of James E. Belcher, who is secretary and treasurer of the city executive committee.

It was explained that the expense of holding the forthcoming election would be greater than ever before on account of the large number of precincts.

Last year the fee for aldermen was only $35 and for councilmen $25. In 1915 the fees were $100 for aldermen and $75 for councilmen.

Quite Ungallant Flivver Enters Drug Store Front And Removes Lady's Shoe

Augusta, Ga., September 3.—(Special.)—One of the most unique accidents of years in this city occurred yesterday when E. T. Lannam, of Augusta, in an effort to avoid a collision with another automobile ran his car into the Greene Street pharmacy, on Greene street, and did no damage other than to remove the shoe of Mrs. J. H. Harwell, of Atlanta, who was standing near the entrance of the drug store. Mrs. Harwell was uninjured, as was the driver of the ungallant automobile. Her husband received a slight blow upon the leg.

TWO FORMER GOVERNORS ON UNIVERSITY BOARD

In the appointment of trustees of the University of Georgia yesterday by Governor Dorsey two former governors were named members. They are Governor Henry McDaniel, of Monroe, who was named chairman of the board, and Governor Joseph Brown, who was reappointed.

Trainloads of Chinks Shipped From Frisco To Cuban Republic

Waycross, Ga., September 3.—(Special.)—Last night another trainload of Chinese laborers, en route to Cuba from San Francisco, passed through Waycross over the Atlantic Coast Line. The Chinese were closely guarded. It is understood the railroad on which the movement originated is under heavy bond for the delivery of each Chinese aboard, and for this reason the cars are guarded from the beginning to the end of the journey. Special trains have passed here frequently en route to Florida points from which Chinese sail for Cuba. How many more will be brought this way is unknown.

ATLANTA'S STRIDES FROM DAY TO DAY

Atlanta's real estate offices for the greater part, with the exception of the rent departments, celebrated Labor day (Monday) with a half holiday. The result of this was that the market was quiet in so far as new developments were concerned.

The office of the city building inspector was closed, it being a full holiday at city hall, so that no new building operations were disclosed through permits issued.

However, agents are expecting a large business during this week in the way of business leases. As shown in Sunday's business lease announcements, the business interests of the city are awakening to the fact that additional space is necessary to handle their increased business. Before the end of the week a number of important leases of this nature will have been disclosed.

PLAN CONCESSIONS FOR LOCAL HOUSES

Space for Booths Will Be Leased to Atlanta Merchants Only, Says Ashford Park Company Promoter.

Only reputable Atlanta merchants will be granted concessions by the Ashford Park Development company, made up of prominent Atlantans, which proposes to establish a chain of concessions in the neighborhood of Camp Gordon for the sale of goods to the soldiers at the cantonment, according to announcement by the promotors.

Meanwhile General Swift is considering whether he will let any one erect an establishment of any sort near the camp.

No lease will be made with any prospective concessionaires unless they shall agree to put up establishments that will cost at least $500 each, and this condition will be established as a protection to the business interests of Atlanta in an effort to save them from the inroads of "fly-by-night" concession hunters under the plans of the development company.

This announcement came as the result of a decision of those behind the project to explain to Atlanta's business men just why the development plan was proposed. The point was emphasized that there was no intention to antagonize the mercantile interests of Atlanta by having concession booths erected for the sale of goods by "outsiders" in competition with reputable establishments in this city.

The new company will build no booths. It will merely lease the land space. The object of the scheme, it was pointed out, is to permit Atlanta merchants catering to the "soldier trade" to establish branch offices near the cantonment where the national army men may be put in direct touch with these establishments without having to come all the way into Atlanta each time they wanted to make a purchase.

It is understood that one of Atlanta's most prominent financial institutions has arranged to establish a branch bank on the proposed development site and that numerous well-known merchants are arranging to open "outposts" near the cantonment.

"It was the general impression, it seems," said one of the directors of the development company, "that we planned to rent out space to peanut sellers, soft drink peddlers and 'knock the baby down' shacks. That's far from our intentions. We recognize that Atlanta's business men patriotically agreed to put their own money into the funds needed to get the cantonment here, and their interests, and theirs only, will be considered in the new project.

"In a nutshell, the object is to have Atlanta's business houses establish branches on the site so as to be near the soldiers. And none but reputable business men will be permitted to get any concession rights."

The development plan became known originally when Walter P. Andrews obtained a charter for the new company. Associated with Mr. Andrews in obtaining the charter were H. C. Caldwell, A. L. Dunn and H. C. Goodhart. Among those who are also said to be interested in the plans are Asa G. Candler, Jr., Henry C. Heinz and St. Elmo Massengale.

AMUSEMENTS.

Keith Vaudeville.

(At the Lyric.)

Three great holiday audiences attended and enjoyed the three shows at the Lyric theater Monday and last night.

Seldom is such a typical comedy character seen on the stage as that presented by Thomas J. Ryan in "Mag Haggerty's Father." Ryan, in the role of Mag's father, keeps the hearers laughing all the way through the act. Hazel Harrington, as the daughter, ably assists him.

A musical act of the highest type is that furnished by Gallerini and his youthful son. They begin by offering a number of accordion numbers. Then young Gallerini plays an accordion solo in which he proves himself a real artist. His father then accompanies him on an accordion, while the son plays in succession solos upon the flute, the picolo, the fife and the cornet—giving for the most part patriotic airs.

"Bobby," the dog with brains, is back again with the Maxine Brothers. This dog displays wonderful intelligence, and holds the attention of the audience.

Ronair and Ward, comedy and song entertainers, have some laughable lines.

Walter Ward, in his act, "Useless," stages some difficult tricks with bicycles, in one of which he climbs a long ladder on a cycle.

The Pathe news are especially interesting, giving war views for the most part.

Loew Vaudeville.

(At the Grand.)

There is an excellent bill of vaudeville at the Grand for the first half of the week, and the promise is for an even better entertainment today than on the opening one, since one act was unable to appear on Monday, and since Miss Alice Brady, great screen star, will appear in person today at this popular theater.

George Wilson, long a star of the minstrel world, is the headliner, and he more than proved on Monday afternoon that he had lost none of his old-time grip on his audience.

It appeared when he first came out on the stage that he would fail to live up to his former records. For a few minutes the crowd was rather cold. Then all of a sudden he seemed to "catch hold," as it were, and from that time on he was the "boss."

His monologue pleased, but it was his little talk to the audience after he was called back before the footlights that showed him at his best. The most of it was absolute nonsense, or rather that was the beginning of his speech, and then he gradually drifted into a talk on suffrage, and on women in general. Even the women enjoyed it.

Lucile and her educated Cockatoo opened the bill. The "talking" bird is put through some rather severe tests and comes out with flying colors. At times it is rather hard to understand what the cockatoo is saying, but at other times it is very easy. The best of the bird's "stunts" perhaps are those of whistling and imitating musical instruments.

Stuart and Lewis, the London Chappie and the Soubrette, are fairly good, and the Florence Campbell Trio way above the average, offering some unusually good comedy.

"Jack and the Beanstalk."

(At the Criterion.)

In order to accommodate the record attendance which is promised the Criterion this week, if Monday's business is an indication, the management announce that for this week only, while "Jack and the Beanstalk" is being shown, the first performance will begin at 9 a. m. and every two hours thereafter during the day. The old fairy story has been made into a glorious film drama, has a modern introduction, where Francis and Virginia, neighbors' children, have the tale of "Jack and the Beanstalk" told them, and then determine to find the enchanted forest. They elude the nurses, journey into the forest and fall asleep as night is coming on. Francis falls asleep and behold he is Jack of beanstalk fame and the famous story follows.

Pauline Frederick.

(At the Odeon.)

For the combination of a thrilling "detective story" sort of plot with a love story that is romantic enough to suit the most exacting matinee girl "Sleeping Fires," a Famous Players-Paramount production, starring the talented Pauline Frederick, has no superior. The "detective" side of the story comes in through the efforts of an unscrupulous woman to marry another woman's husband, attempting in every way possible to make her divorce him. The love story part is introduced through the efforts of a young lawyer to free the wronged wife of an accusation of murder—and the combination may be seen at the Odeon theater today.

Harold Lockwood.

(At the Strand.)

One of the most exciting moments in "Under Handicap," with Harold Lockwood as the star, at the Strand today, shows Anna Little as the heroine galloping on horseback after a swiftly moving train. She leaps from her horse to the platform of the observation car. Two of the fastest horses ever used in motion picture work were used in this scene, and the train which Miss Little caught was going at the rate of 30 miles an hour. The clever actress was fully competent to meet the exacting demands made upon her by the necessities of the picture.

Miriam Cooper.

(At the Vaudette.)

The spirit and romance of old Mexico and the hazardous adventures which overtake an American army officer in search of a bold, bad bandit, form the story of the new William Fox production, "Betrayed," which R. A. Walsh has just completed with Miriam Cooper in the leading role. This picture will be seen today at the Vaudette. The story tells of a senorita's dreams of love. She begins by promising to marry one man. Before the picture is ended she has promised to marry three. The finish is one of the battle scenes for which Director Walsh is famous. Everything concludes to the entire satisfaction of everyone except the bold, bad bandit.

Moran Bests Hanlon.

New Orleans, September 3.—Pal Moran, of New Orleans, was awarded a referee's decision over Jimmie Hanlon, of Denver, after twenty rounds of fast fighting here tonight. Moran outfought Hanlon in practically every round. Hanlon was knocked down in the first round. The men are lightweights.

"PEOPLE'S COUNCIL" KEEPING VERY QUIET

No Further Meeting Held in Chicago—Mayor Thompson Criticised.

Chicago, September 3.—Delegates to the People's Council of America for Democracy and Peace made no effort to hold a public meeting today or tonight. Informal conferences were held at hotels where the delegates are quartered. Some of the pacifists attended a labor picnic, having previously announced they would make speeches if permitted to do so. None made an address, but no person would say that they either asked permission to speak or were denied the privilege. A large force of deputy sheriffs was sent to the picnic grounds by Sheriff Traeger, who has been co-operating with Adjutant General Dickson since the arrival of four companies of national guardsmen from Springfield last night. The troops were in readiness throughout the day at the First regiment armory to carry out Governor Lowden's instructions to prevent a public meeting of the delegates.

Mayor Thompson, by whose instructions the pacifists were given police protection at their meeting yesterday before the troops arrived, was in seclusion throughout the day. Members of the State Council of Defense discussed possibility of action against the mayor for what was regarded as his illegal action in permitting the pacifists' meeting to be held in defiance of Governor Lowden's orders. Members of several patriotic organizations also informally discussed the mayor's action. None announced any formal steps toward a plan of procedure against the mayor.

A number of the delegates to the peace conference left tonight, saying they regarded their object as having been completed when the meeting was held, after having been prevented in three states.

The report of the resolutions committee, as given out tonight, "accepts the president's reply to the pope as the first clear and definite statement of the war aims of this country."

So far as could be learned, the resolutions were not adopted at the formal meeting of the delegates. It was said by the leaders of the organization that much of its work, blocked by the advent of Illinois soldiers, would be completed by mail referendum.

"So far as I am concerned, I purpose to put it to the test, that those who are not for the government are against it," said Governor Frank O. Lowden tonight in a statement made after a conference with Attorney General E. J. Brundage in regard to Sunday's meeting of the council for democracy and peace. The statement said:

"I shall employ the full power of the state in suppressing the meetings of this society. What I have said of this organization applies equally to others which may seek to obstruct the government in the prosecution of this war. Freedom of speech will be respected, but in Illinois will not be permitted as a cloak of treason. The time has come in Illinois and elsewhere to find out who are for the government and who are against it."

The governor would not say whether he contemplated any further action in regard to Mayor Thompson. It was pointed out by Mr. Brundage that the governor has full command of all men between the ages of 21 and 45 who are not in the national army for the purpose of enforcing his orders as chief executive of the state. Most members of the Chicago police force are within these age limits.

The governor tonight reiterated his orders to Adjutant General Dickson to prevent all meetings similar to that of the peace council.

The troops sent to Chicago by the governor on Sunday will remain for the time being to carry out these orders.

MOVE TO REMOVE MAYOR THOMPSON.

Chicago, September 3.—It was announced tonight by officers of the National Security league that a meeting of the executive committee would be held tomorrow to consider placing charges against Mayor William Hale Thompson before a grand jury as a result of his permission to the people's council to hold a peace meeting after it had been forbidden by Governor Lowden. H. H. Merrick, president of the league, said it was the purpose of the league to seek the co-operation of the state council of dentense, the city council and the citizens' war board to carry out such steps "as would be necessary to bring about the early removal of the mayor."

FINNISH SOCIALISTS FAIL TO OPEN DIET

London, September 3.—A dispatch to the Exchange Telegraph from Copenhagen says:

"It is reported from Helsingfors that the recent socialist demonstration against the government was a fiasco. The socialists had declared they would not yield to the bayonet, but a few Polish policemen were able to prevent the opening of the diet. Helsingfors is now quiet.

"The Finnish governor general has issued a proclamation thanking the citizens for their reasonable attitude during the crisis."

A dispatch from Helsingfors, August 29, announced that Russian troops had occupied the parliament building and prevented the reassembling of the Finnish diet in defiance of the decision of the Russian government. One hundred deputies endeavored to enter the building, but were kept out by the troops. There were no disorders.

Gibbons Gets Decision.

Dayton, Ohio, September 3.—Tommy Gibbons, of St. Paul, won the decision here tonight in a fifteen-round bout with Gus Christie, having the better of the contest all the way through. There were no knock downs. Gibbons, however, failed to keep his promise to stop Christie. He was too fast for Christie, but substituted punching power for speed.

ATLANTA POLICE WILL ASK BOARD TO INCREASE PAY

A petition asking that salaries of members of the Atlanta police force be raised will be presented to the board of police commissioners at their meeting next Tuesday night.

The petition points out the fact that the men have received no advance in salaries for a number of years, during which time the cost of living has been greatly increased. In case the board acts favorably on the petition it will be presented to council for ratification and approval by that body.

Hot Water Bottles Used as Hiding Place For Blockade Booze

W. S. McNeal, of 68 Windsor street, yesterday established a record for discovering blockade whisky places when, in a scuffle with a negro in an alley in the rear of an apartment house at 312 Rawson street, he tore open a negro's coat, revealing four large rubber containers closely resembling hot water bottles, full of "moonshine" strapped securely around the negro's body.

Mr. McNeal stated that he had suspected the presence of a "blind tiger" in his neighborhood, and when he saw from his back window a wagon in which were seated two white men and two negroes, drive to the rear of the Rawson street apartment, his suspicions were immediately aroused.

Mr. McNeal, single-handed, attacked the four men and in the general flight that ensued he captured the negro with the hot water bags of whisky. The others escaped. When detectives arrived on the scene the wagon was searched and 8 gallons of corn whisky were found hidden among the vegetables and watermelons with which it was loaded. It is stated that the negro captured by Mr. McNeal is the janitor of the apartment house.

Ansley Not to Finance Or Direct Two Plants For Aiding Food Supply

With reference to the two industrial concerns proposed for the state—a great warehouse plant for storing food and foodstuff and a dehydrating plant for preserving fruits and vegetables—Edwin P. Ansley, well-known Atlanta real estate man, stated yesterday that he has no intention of personally financing or directing them.

Mr. Ansley said that he will soon be interested in a land deal in Florida which will turn his attention from affairs here, but that he will be glad to lend any assistance in the way of organizing these concerns. The warehouse storage plant must, he stated, be financed and run by public-spirited citizens, since the federal and state governments have found it impossible to take them over.

In the event that the dehydrating plant is located in Georgia, it will be financed exclusively by the parent company in Chicago.

Mr. Ansley has devoted a good deal of time and energy to these plans, and he expresses a belief that they will both mean much to the state in the event they are secured. He will be glad to communicate with any person interested in the concerns.

INCOME TAX FIGURES IN SOUTHERN STATES

WRESTLED TO A DRAW, THEN USED THEIR FISTS

Lewis and Zbyszko Covered With Blood When Separated in Birmingham.

Birmingham, Ala., September 3.—Dr. J. H. Roller, referee, declared the wrestling match between Zbyszko and Lewis here tonight a draw at midnight, neither man having gotten the first fall. Lewis had a toe hold which looked dangerous when Zbyszko hit him in the face with his fist to break it. Lewis whirled and got a strangle on Zbyszko which he held until Zbyszko was unconscious in spite of efforts of the referee and those at the ringside to pull him loose.

The match was declared a draw on the ground that both men had fouled.

Later, after the audience had departed, the wrestlers met behind the wings and had a fist fight, and both were covered with blood before they could be separated.

Elliot Winner.

Uniontown, Pa., September 3.—Frank Elliott won the 112½-mile race at the Uniontown Speedway today in 1:14:26. The purse was $2,500. A crowd of 20,600 persons witnessed the race. Barney Oldfield was put out of the running when his car, the "Golden Submarine," crashed into the guard rail in the ninth lap when a tire exploded. No one was hurt, but the machine was damaged.

Joe Boyer, Eddie Hearne, A. A. Coldwell and Homer Toft were among the other entrants.

Safeguards Health of The Children

Constipation, or inaction of the bowels, is a great menace to health. Cathartic or purgative remedies should never be given to children as the violence of their action tends to upset the entire digestive system. A mild laxative is far preferable, and the combination of simple laxative herbs with pepsin known as Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin, and sold in drug stores for fifty cents a bottle, is highly recommended. This preparation contains no opiate, narcotic, or habit forming drug of any description, is mild and gentle in its action, and brings relief in an easy, natural manner. Its pleasant taste appeals to children and they take it readily.

Thousands of mothers have testified to the merit of Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin, and in countless homes it is the standard family remedy. A trial bottle, free of charge, can be obtained by writing to Dr. W. B. Caldwell, 456 Washington St., Monticello, Illinois.

Tobacco Habit Easily Overcome

A New Yorker, of wide experience, has written a book telling how the tobacco or snuff habit may be easily and quickly banished with delightful benefit. The author, Edward J. Woods, 165 R, Station E, New York City, will mail his book free on request.

The health improves wonderfully after tobacco craving is conquered. Calmness, tranquil sleep, clear eyes, normal appetite, good digestion, manly vigor, strong memory and a general gain in efficiency are among the many benefits reported. Get rid of that nervous, irritable feeling; no more need of pipe, cigar, cigarette, snuff or chewing tobacco to pacify morbid desire.

PAY RENT MONEY TO YOURSELF

The renting situation is serious and is going to be worse. We are offering this suggestion as a solution of the problem:

Why not buy one of our reduced-price homes with a view to occupying it for two or three years until conditions settle; then resell at a profit in better times, thus saving both rent and worry?

On account of past conditions there are a number of good homes on sale at far less than the house could be built for; both prudence and good judgment commend the purchase of a home just now when that home can be bought at far less than its value.

PREVENTION VS. CURE

The main reason why corporations that have large lists of stockholders and float their paper on the open market have yearly audits by Certified Public Accountants is—

That the management and stockholders want to know definitely, not only what the business has produced, but that the statement is correct.

CONVERSION OF BRYAN DOUBTED BY GERMANS

Amsterdam, September 3.—The Koelnische Zeitung asks its reader to mistrust reports given publicity by Reuter's Limited about the alleged speaking tour of Secretary of State Bryan for the purpose of preaching war to a victorious end.

The newspaper says it knows that only some five years ago Mr. Bryan wrote in an entirely different sense to an Italian friend, and that it therefore is scarcely to be assumed that he has suddenly disavowed his entire past of pacifism on principle.

Heinie Groh, of the Cincinnati Reds, is rapidly developing into one of the best third basemen in the leagues. Zimmerman had better look out for his laurels.

Don't Trifle with Blood Disorders, But Get Rid of Them Quickly

Cleanse the System of All Impurities.

Watch your blood supply closely, be ever on the alert lest some impurity creep in which will make inroads upon your general health.

For upon the condition of your blood depends largely whether or not you are to enjoy that robust and splendid vitality to which you are entitled.

Some of the most painful and serious ailments are diseases of the blood, which could be avoided by alert and prompt attention. Rheumatism comes from a tiny germ which gets its foothold when the blood supply is impure and run down.

Catarrh is another disease which science has shown is more easily contracted when the blood is in an impoverished and disordered state. There are numerous other diseases which are due solely to an impure condition of the blood.

Can you not see, therefore, the importance of taking a blood purifier so as to avoid these diseases? Just give the system a thorough cleansing with S. S. S., that sterling blood remedy, and you will be in position to enjoy the blessings of good health.

S. S. S. has been on the market for more than fifty years and is sold by druggists everywhere. Demand S. S. S. and don't take a substitute.
